YOU, the students of Central High School, are now looking at the yearbook which YOU, as a team have written. We, the staff, have provided only the room, the paper, and the typewriters.

Central's team is a team to be proud of. We are not referring to a special team, but to the team which each one of you makes up, the student body of Central High School.

YOU have worked in separate teams in your classes, but all toward the same ultimate goal — knowledge and maturity. As seniors you now see the fulfillment of your plans and dreams. As juniors you now "reach the top" and see the results of the efforts which you have put forth. Sophomores now receive the honor of being upperclassmen, and you freshmen now finish your first experience in teamwork.

YOUR teams have been guided by YOUR faculty which is now preparing for another year of teaching and of helping students to attain their goals.

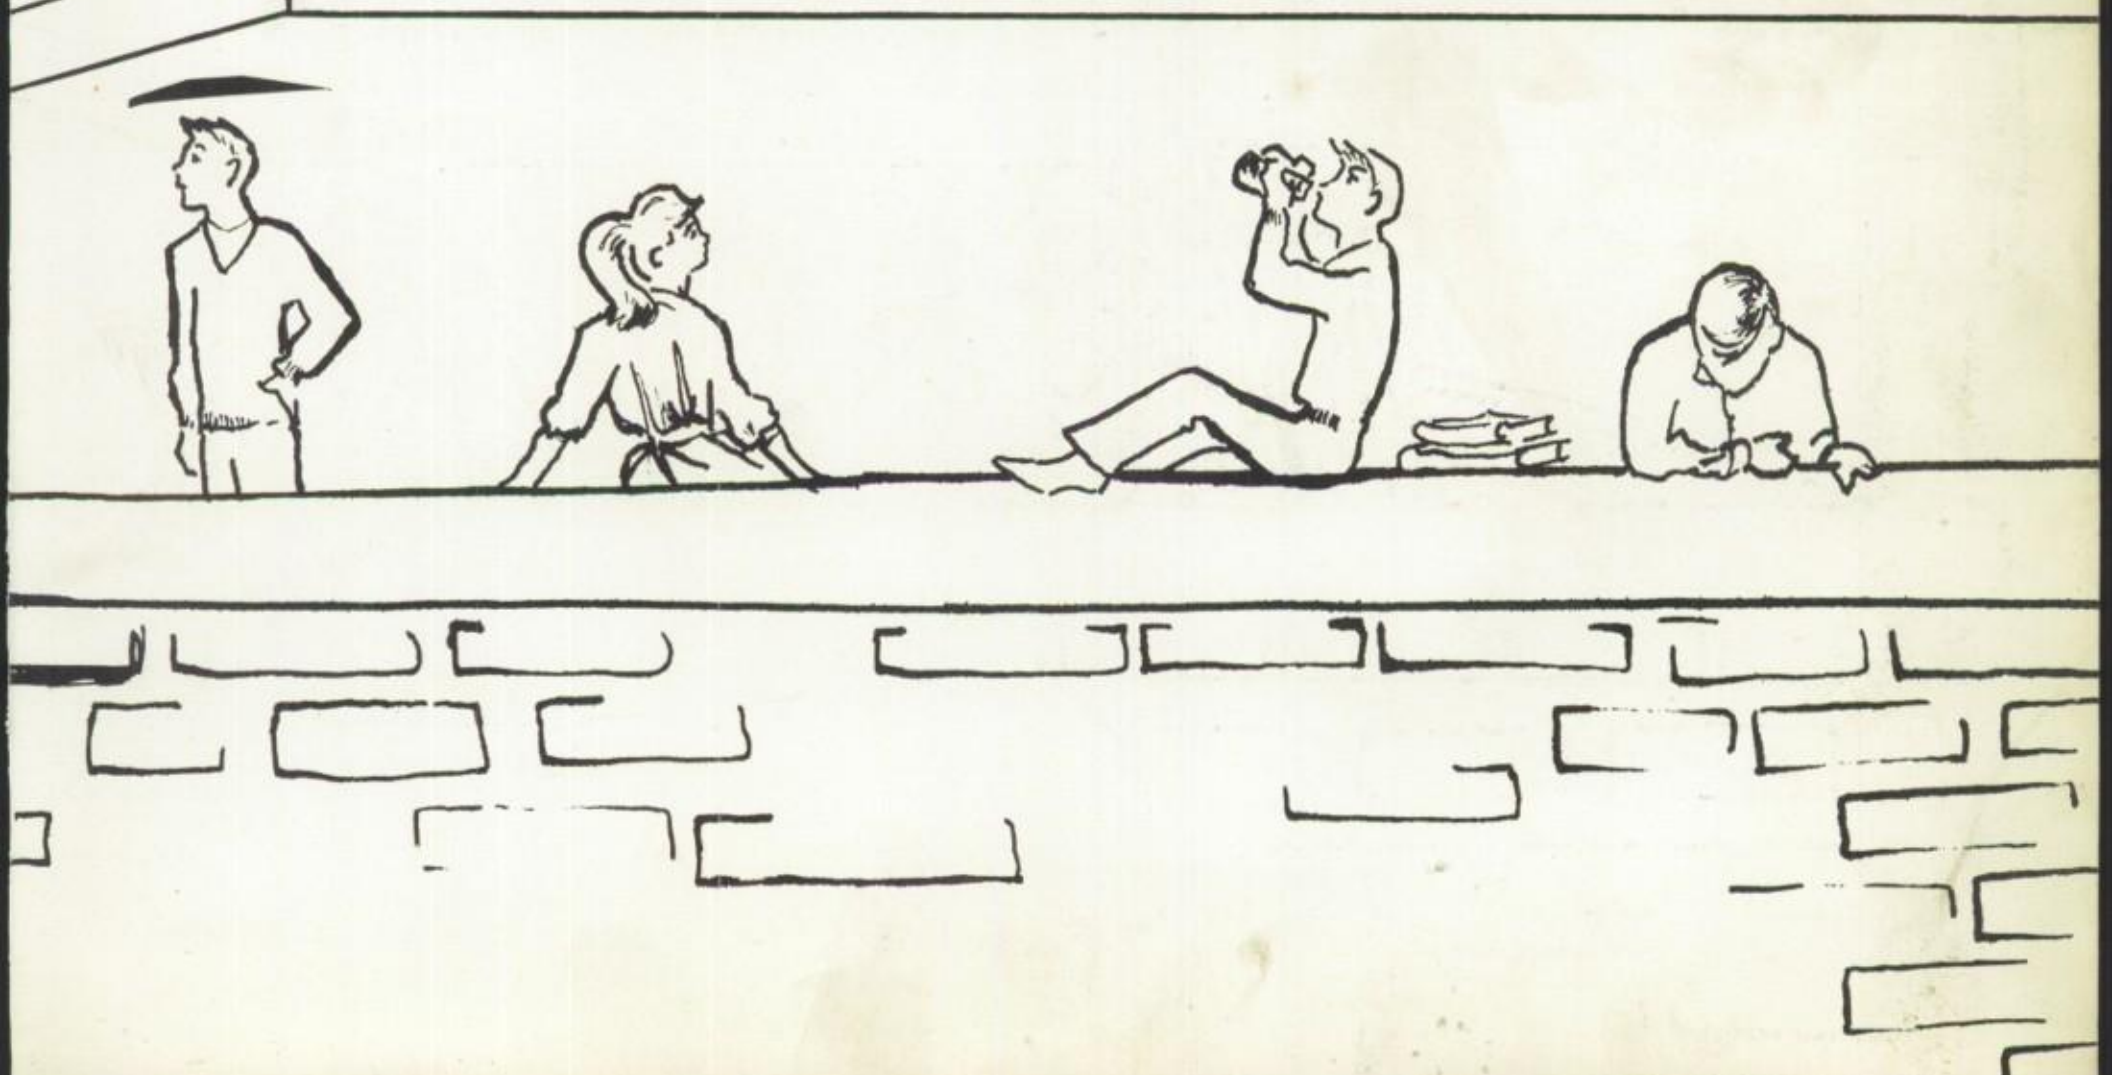
YOU have worked as a whole body in a team. YOU have expressed your desires through your Student Council, backed your athletic teams through your Booster Club, and have given those from other countries a chance to learn our way of life through the American Field Service Program.

YOU as individuals have carried on this teamwork by contributing your talents and abilities through Central's program of extra-curricular activities.

YOU have kept up Central's traditions, as individuals, as small groups, as a whole team. YOU have chosen this yearbook to keep as a reminder of the results of your teamwork.

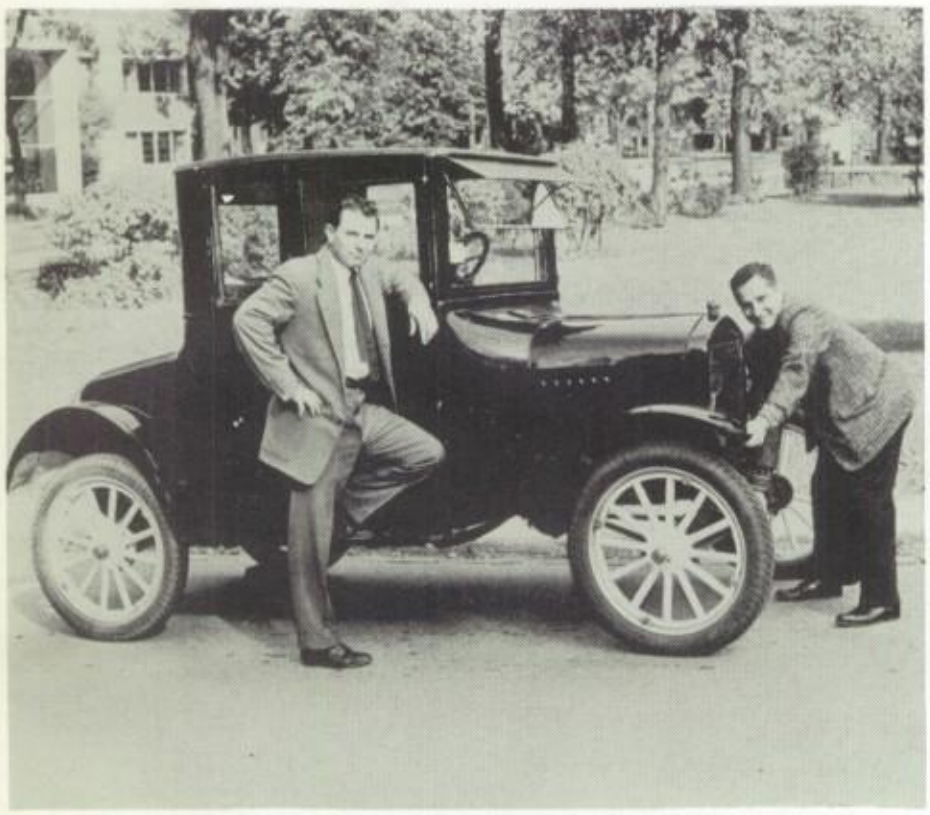
In the stories — YOUR activities are recorded. In the pictures— YOUR faces are mirrored, YOUR enthusiasm for sports displayed, YOUR faculty pictured, YOUR fun echoed.

As a final result of YOUR teamwork, here is YOUR 1961 INTERLUDE. It is a record of the memorable year which YOU have created; it is now YOURS to enjoy.



Our Team Performs

Teachers show true enthusiasm . . .



As time flies . . .

What would the condition of the school be if single persons tried controlling the functions without consulting one another? It would be chaos, of course. The prosperity of Central depends upon the combining of ideas and then working them out as a team. Think how many times this year you have played a part in this TEAMWORK. One of the important associations is the fellowship between students and students. All year there were classes, during which you also worked in a teacher-student relationship for a common goal—knowledge for the future. Important guidance has been received from the counselors. All are essential units of our smooth working team.

Got to win, by golly . . .

Central students often combine their talents with those of students from other schools in programs, and compete eagerly with these same schools in athletic, scholastic, and musical events. A progressive school must have the versatility to work with other schools, and then to compete with them vigorously —displaying good sportsmanship all the while. Learning to work with other schools in this way may be partly responsible for the success we have in working with students on an international scale. Each year Central is happy to open its doors and participate in the American Field Service project so that we may send a student abroad, and also that we may give foreign students experience in living in the United States. Yes, TEAMWORK has the "title role" in the drama of Central High School. We are proud to be actors in the production.

CLASSES

How many times have you heard this being said? "Hurry, we're going to be late . . . our first hour starts in thirty seconds." Despite all the hustle and bustle you suddenly remember that most of the time you did make it to class in those thirty seconds.

Your most profitable experiences shall one day become those which occurred in your daily classes. Upon graduation seniors will be able to recall those classes which have aided in enabling them to attain their goals. Through their classes, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen have become aware of the improvements that must be made to maintain equal status in a well-educated society.

Believe it or not, this is an ice box! Mr. Mitchell, one of the Diversified Co-operative Education Program supervisors, is showing Tom Janowiak how to repair this ice box, which seems, to our inexperienced eyes, to be unrepairable.

Jayne Gant is getting instruction from her teacher, Esther Cambron, about the garment she is making at the Frances Shop. Jayne is among the many students on the Diversified Co-operative Program. She serves as a seamstress, as a fitter, and as one who makes alterations.

A junior seamstress, an auto mechanic, a machinist, a dental technician, a mortician, and a physio-therapist have been going to school under the Diversified Cooperative Education program during the past school year. This is an excellent way to earn required credits and to boost the figures in one's budget book at the same time. The DCE program all over South Bend is coordinated by Central's own Mr. Glod. It is open to juniors and seniors whose records boast average grades. Central and Adams have met in a combined class every day, 3rd hour. These students have had three classes per day, and have devoted the remainder of the day to their individual jobs, which may sometimes become permanent after graduation. As in any subject, there was a certain amount of "DCE homework" to do. The students were required to read material and answer outlined questions made up by Mr. Glod. Doing research was included to round out their study course. The resulting grades which the students received were a combination of the grades given by the employer, and those given by Mr. Glod. Besides work done in school, the group had meetings at Mr. Glod's home and took trips to Chicago. Terminating the year with tradition, they held the annual DCE banquet. Upon entering the course, the students automatically become members of the CO-OP club. Jayne Gant, president; and Nancy Kubiak, secretary-treasurer; from Central, and Sue Jacobs, vice-president; from Adams, were the officers of Central's division. At the CO-OP club's state convention held in Indianapolis, Wayne Zander was elected to be the president of the state-wide organization; thus outstanding leadership qualities of a Central student were again proved by the election of the presidency, endowed on a CHS student for the second consecutive year.

Along with the academic courses, students at Central are also afforded the opportunity of specializing in certain courses. In these specialized courses, students, upon graduating, are able to put their knowledge to practical use.

From courses such as printing, woodworking, auto mechanics, and mechanical drawing, boys are learning now for the earnings they will receive tomorrow. They are the laborers of tomorrow.

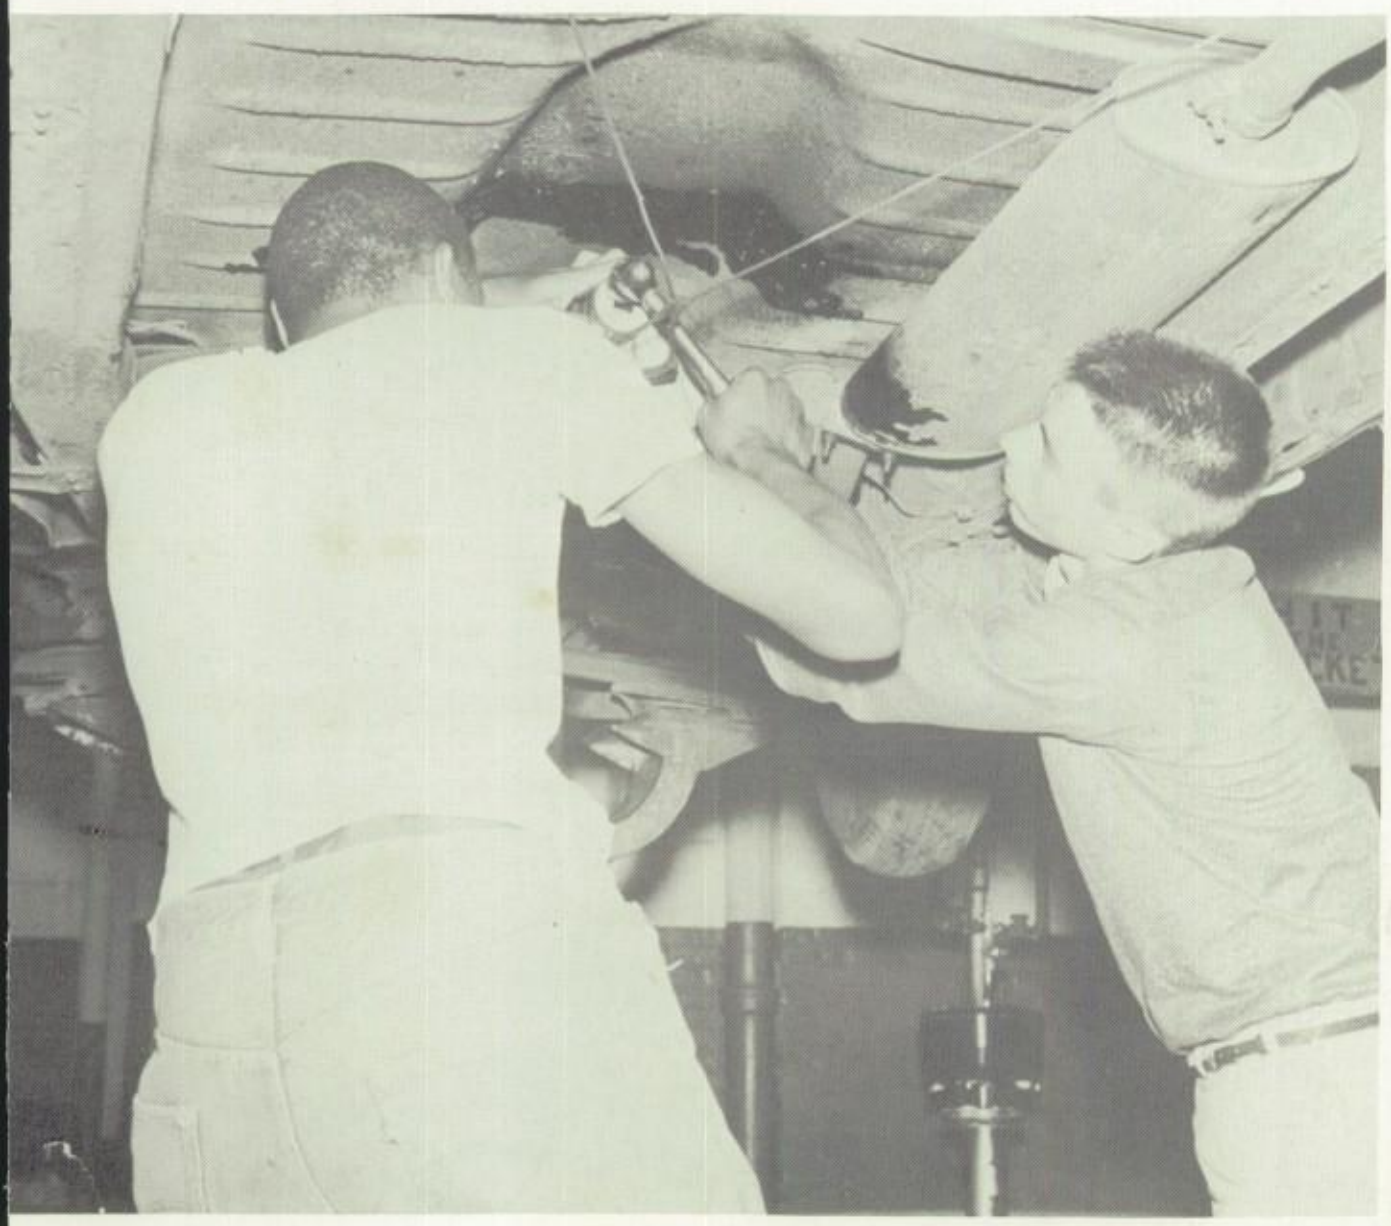
In courses such as foods, clothing, home management, and home nursing, girls receive a broader view of homemaking and those intricate situations which they have learned to cope with through extensive study in these various courses. They, within a few years, will be the homemakers of tomorrow.

Students with special ability are always given the opportunity to develop interest in their future vocations or hobbies. These courses are offered at Central every semester to students with a desire to develop and improve their interests.

Are you interested in learning a vocation and setting this knowledge to every day use? If so, you are given this opportunity here at Central High School. These courses truly emphasize the American way of life.

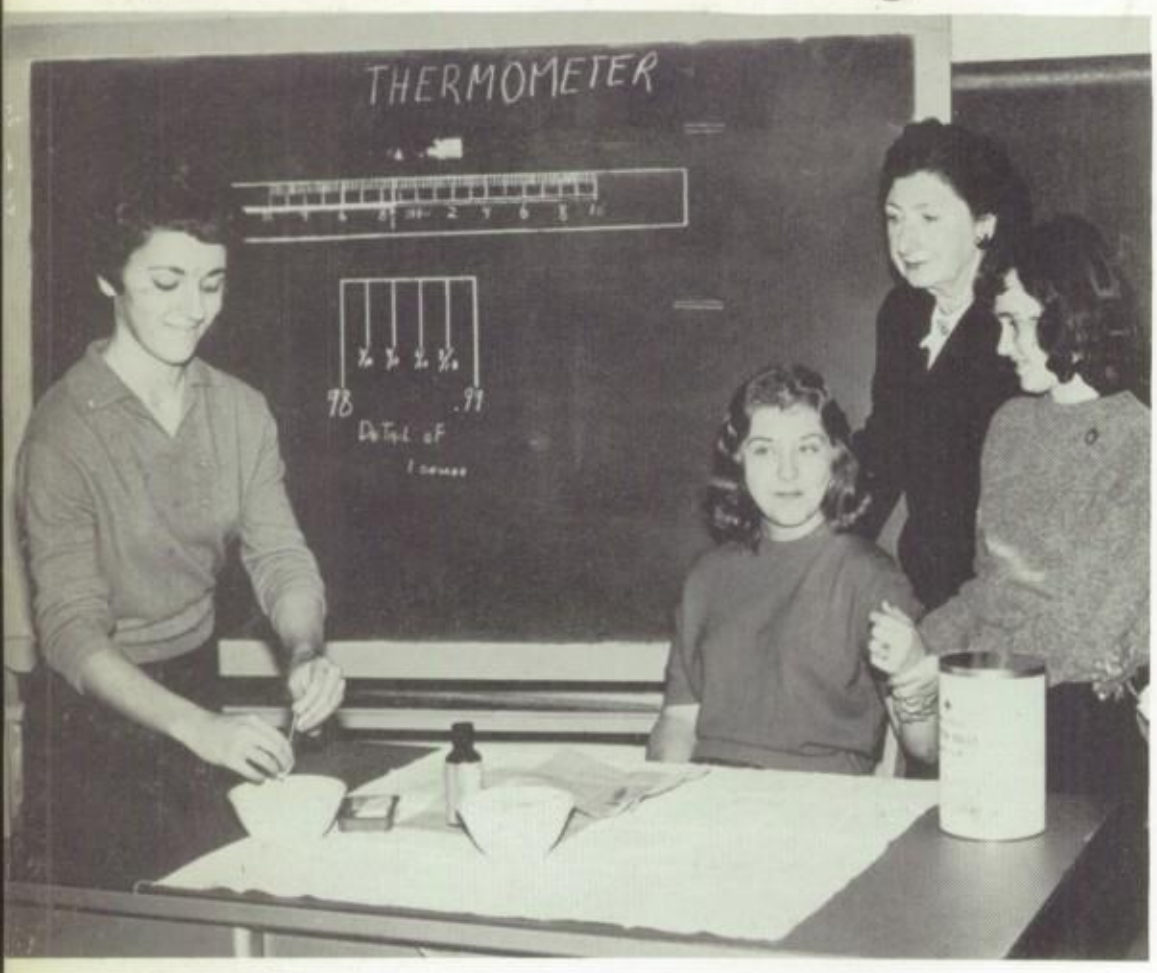
Cindy Reddish, Mary Louise Green, and Claire Kubiak are experiencing one of the many joys of learning how to sew—the chance to take tailoring. The girls are carefully fitting the front unit of Mary Louise's suit—a popular garment in Clothing IV.

Economics apply textbook knowledge to modern living.



Seen here are William Harris and George Parsons working diligently in auto shop. Here, boys are given special training while learning the various parts of an automobile, the most valued means of transportation. Watch that finger!

One semester courses give us new horizons in interest.



Miss Dienhart is instructing Kathy Randall, Karen Potts and Gloria McCoy in the art of home nursing. These girls are receiving knowledge to help them care for their loved ones at home. Besides this, they will understand their own illnesses better.

You have a "hole" in your schedule. The problem is, what to do. The answer . . . Here are several academic courses designed to give one both a more generalized education and increased knowledge in a specific field.

Is Bach a bore? Is Ravel's Bolero a jacket? If your answer to these questions is "yes!" perhaps you need some specialization in music appreciation. This course, taught by Miss Helen Weber, gives the student a bird's eye view of the musical greats while laying a foundation for an appreciation of both the "long hair" and modern classics.

Home nursing and health are also useful but in a different way. Anatomy and elementary first aid are taught in these courses, making them both very profitable, whether or not a person's interests lie in the field of medicine.

Basic domestic problems can also be solved by diligent study in a one semester course. Problem: "My room is a constant fright." The answer: "Interior decorating, my friend, is the remedy for blissful order hereafter." Query: "How can I convince my parents of my superior driving ability?" Reply: "A driver's education certificate should fill the bill and increase the odds for garnering the family bus."

"Friends, Romans, countrymen . . ." "Four-score and seven . . ." If you wish to rank with Cicero and Demosthenes, perhaps the cornerstone for such declamatory success could be laid in Mr. Madden's speech class. At any rate, one semester spent in becoming a more powerful speaker is time well spent.

Speech is one of the elective courses here at Central to improve the speaking ability of those students electing the course. Shown seated at the tape recorder are Bill Haas and Wanda Richardson. Those standing are Miss Key and Richard Calloway.

Roger Spickler, Steve Nice, and Sharon Towne are inspecting the classroom materials which their health teacher has presented to them. Upon finishing this course students understand better the structure and functions of that wonderful machine, the human body.

What a thrill to sit behind the wheel of an automobile and drive down the street all by yourself! Mr. Emrick is the teacher of the "ever-popular" drivers training course. Here he is explaining the operation of the signal light to Margaret Coen, Marjorie Butler, and Penny Dombeck.
After learning the fundamentals of driving, the students prepare to make their "debut" on Michigan Street. Battling the "hoi polloi" on the highway constitutes their next mobile experience. Crash! Bang! Today they're learning how to park. A futile endeavor? Of course not. Their ultimate goal remains—a driver's license.

Put on your earphones . . . . Press the recording button . . . . Listen to the tape recorder . . . . These are all familiar words that have been spoken by the teachers in Central's language department. The language lab has served as a beacon for all students interested in modern languages. The language lab is one of the most modern conveniences in education. Here students become acquainted through tape recordings with the language in which they are interested. Many of us who have not had the opportunity to visit and use the language lab perhaps did not realize how important it is. Through understanding languages, we hope someday to enjoy a world of peace.

Through humanities we seek to know what the world is.

After hours of research Bill Brockman is presenting his "finished product"—a report on Mark Twain. For the past two years a half-hour report on an author has been a requirement for senior English students. This activity begins in English VII and culminates in English VIII. Greater horizons are also opened to students through the reading of fascinating literature by foreign authors.

Sharon Rasmussen, Barbara Lewinski, Wanda Richardson, Theresa Zabik, and Barbara Melson (left to right) are reducing their "mathematical worries" by learning to add and multiply on calculating machines. Office Training III is taught by Miss Hindelang during third hour; it is part of the Business Education Program. Carolyn Przygoda and Janet Nowicki (in corner) are operating 10-key calculating machine.

Through science we seek to know how and why it is.

High School is fun—the activities limitless, the topics of discussion interesting, and the people equally fascinating, but it is important to remember that studying is to be the core of our school lives. Many students are anxious to go to college and further their knowledge. When they are seniors, their academic records are considered. This is the point at which the results of their efforts become extremely important. Not all of the pupils will gain acceptance—only about 33%-35% will experience "campus life." When it comes to choosing courses, any "slipshod method" will not suffice. Everyone is required to have graduated with two majors. According to the general high school curriculum, programs are planned so that it is possible to earn majors automatically in English and social studies. Academically and non-academically, Central students are very fortunate. There is a large array of subjects which students may elect. In viewing the academic scene, we find that the following are available: eleven mathematics courses, fourteen English courses, six science courses, four foreign language courses, and eight social studies courses. Majors may be attained in English, foreign languages, mathematics, science, social studies, business education, industrial education, home economics, art, and music. Some well-planned programs have enabled students to graduate with as many as four majors. If graduation is desired (The logical situation for most Centralites) thirty-two credits are required. Choosing electives gives students the opportunity to fill in their programs with subjects in which they are interested.

ACTIVITIES

Being part of a team is one of the most rewarding experiences one can have. And who can think of any better place for teamwork than through activities?

Paper stacked above heads, typewriters buzzing, everyone scurrying to meet deadlines . . . sound familiar? You must have been a member of the Interlude staff.

Do, re, mi, fa, so, so . . . you've belonged to the Band, Orchestra, or Glee Club.

FTA + FNA + JETS = AFW. This is just an equation saying that some of America's future workers will be teachers, nurses, and engineers who have taken part in Central's "career clubs."

You've done much more than we can mention, but to put it short, you've all participated in teamwork.

What a busy year! This is the understatement of the year. The Central High School Student Council can attest to this. The past year, has been one of the busiest in our school's history.

One of their major accomplishments was the distribution of student directories. They also installed paper machines in the hall and mirrors in the girls' rest rooms.

All in all they made the daily activities around Central a more efficient operation.

Extra, Extra! Read all about it. The largest Booster Club in Indiana has enjoyed a prosperous year. Among their activities this year were the sale of football programs, the Eagle-Bear Romp, and the annual bonfire held at Potawatomi Park. The Central High School Booster Club also conducted the selection of the queen's court at the annual Central-Washington game, and assisted with pep assemblies held during the year.

"Get your Yearbook for 1961." Sharon Golubski, Gerri Snider, and Joe Sorocco, all members of Booster Club, are making signs for the Interlude drive.

Are you interested in boosting school spirit? Engaged in aiding the Booster Club are Curtis Owens, Barbara Cook, and Gwen Miller. The beanies helped make the Central section the most colorful at the games.

Through activities we set our sails for the future.

Leading the Future Teachers this year as officers are Natalie Dowdell as president; Charlotte Howell, vice-president; Jackie Rossow, secretary; and Mary Lou Holdeman, treasurer. Along with their faculty advisor, Mr. Campbell, they have had a busy and profitable year. Included in their projects have been a teachers' tea and a day set aside for the members of the club to help the teachers. In this way they have gained more knowledge in the field of teaching.

The purpose of Future Nurses is to promote interest in different fields of medicine. The projects and activities for the club are planned by Mrs. Foulks, our school nurse; president, Sandy Fortin; vice-president, Sandy Moore; secretary, Jackie Nowak; and treasurer, Carol Niver. A tour of the Memorial Hospital and doing volunteer work for the American Foundation have been some of their projects. By being a club member one can truly discover the possibilities of nursing.

Is the business world the world for you? If it is, you may be interested in the Future American Business Society—better known around school as FABS. Functioning under the guidance of Mr. Williams, the members have visited the various places of business in South Bend. They also held meetings in their respective homes. Throughout the year they had films and speakers at their meetings. Although FABS was a new club during the '59-'60 school year, '60-'61 has proved to be a FABulously busy year for them!

Miss Young, the Director of Nurses from Memorial Hospital, is shown here in conference with the officers of the Future Nurses Club: Jackie Nowak, secretary; Sandy Moore, vice-president; Carol Niver, treasurer; seated, Sandy Fortin; president, and Miss Young. Picturing yourselves in a white cap, girls?

The Future American Business Society has gathered to discuss plans for the year. Ken Hardy, president; Rebbecca Ponder, treasurer; Chris Wodzinski, vice-president; sitting: Judy Cabanau, secretary; Helen Edwards, Mr. Williams, sponsor; Sherry Riddle and Joyce Schlundt. These are some Centralites interested in a business career.

"Flags for Peace" theme launches '60-'61 A.F.S. drive.

The theme this year for the American Field Service drive was "Flags for Peace." Here we see Sherry Walsh and Frances Fisher counting the money contributed to A.F.S. How much do we have girls?

Our three foreign exchange students are endeavoring to learn one of America's most popular sports—bowling. Seated and looking over their score sheets are Kari Svaeren from Norway and Blanca Vasquez from Costa Rica. Getting ready to throw the bowling ball is Hans Anwarhan from Indonesia.

Among the many colorful posters which were stationed at various places in the school is this one which hung in the main hall. It showed the percentages of money collected in the various home rooms. Working very hard at this are Kathy Clem; DeeDee Kern; Linda Gates, chairman; Al Rapp, and Jack Wolf.

One of the most prevalent questions in the world today is, "What can we do to develop world peace and understanding?" The American Field Service is one of the best means of answering this extremely important question. Founded in 1915 as a volunteer ambulance corps with allied forces in World War I, the A.F.S. developed a peacetime program of teen-age exchange in 1947. Throughout the year we have heard of and contributed to A.F.S. We saw three students from other nations become adjusted to the American way of life. These students were a part of a private- non-profit, educational organization whose purpose is the furthering of understanding and good-will among the peoples of the world. A.F.S. has sponsored students from some forty different countries. They must all be able to speak English. These students are chosen for academic achievement, and for personal qualities also. They are selected through careful and extensive examination. Through A.F.S. we, as students, have received knowledge that is yet to be surpassed. We have seen Blanca, Kari and Hans all through the school year and have come to realize that students all over the world, no matter from what corner of the earth they come, are all interested in the same cause: the promotion of world peace.

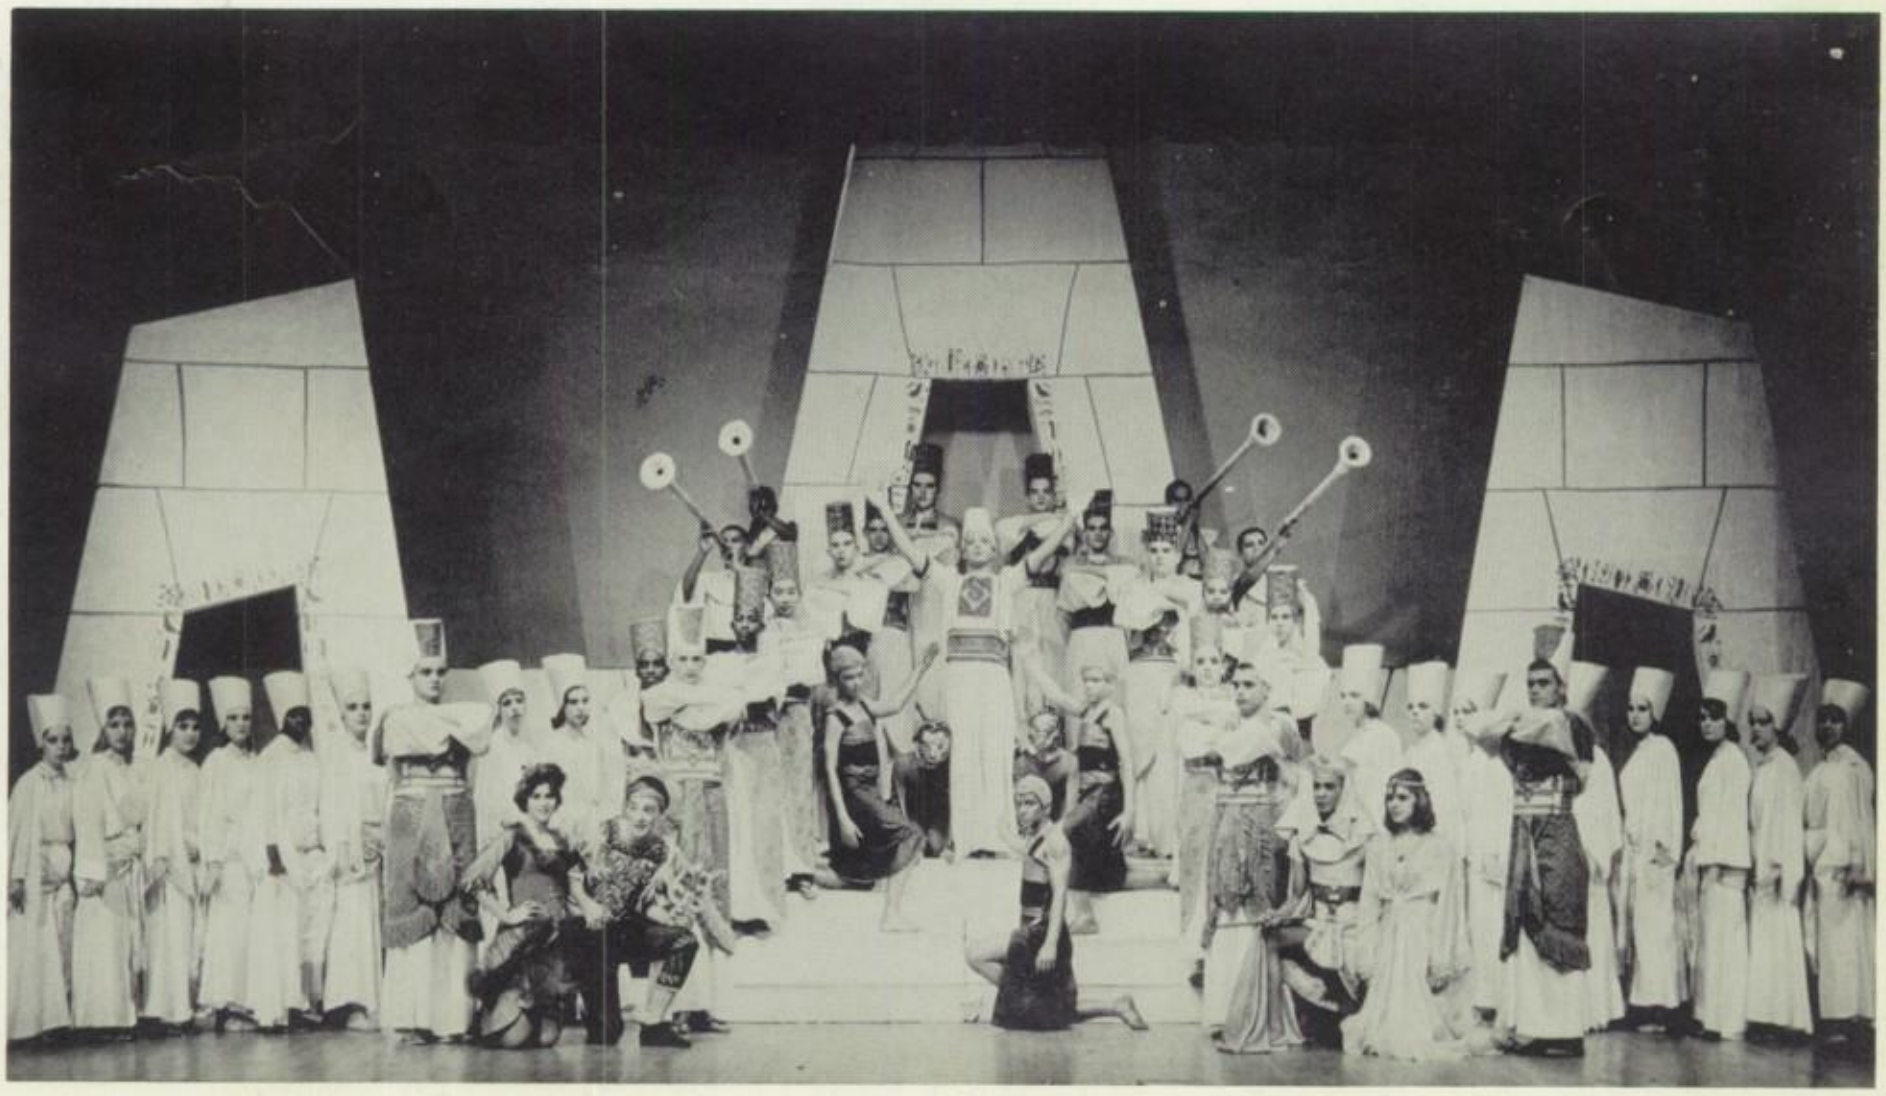
"Let there be music!"—Glee Club directive.

Harmony is the heart and substance of the Glee Club in more ways than one. Harmony refers not only to tones combined by this musical group, but also to the close relationship in which the director, pianists, and singers must work for the purpose of serving their audiences. These approximately eighty voices under the direction of Miss Weber and accompanied by Diane Haley, Barbara Harnisch, Karen Bloom, Maryellen Boberg, or Charles Daube participated in many events during the past school year. The impressive Magic Flute opera by Mozart was one of the biggest and most thrilling highlights of the year. In the course of the year, the glee club had a chance to sing with choruses from other South Bend schools; there was the annual spring music festival, under the direction of Miss Kantzer, and the enjoyable Christmas program over WSBT-TV. These are just some examples of the activities of the glee club. During the day there are chorus classes during first, third and fifth hours. Out of these voices, some are picked to be in the Glee Club. 7:10 a.m., the "middle of the night" on a school morning is the rehearsal time for the Glee Club (P.S. Like the band, it's the "early bird" organization, but very worthwhile). The Glee Club officers are Frances Fisher, president; Judy Goebel, freshman, Ethel Sanders, sophomore, Dianne Haley, junior, and Jack Wolf, senior, vice-presidents; Sheila Watkins, secretary; and Janalyce Stouder, treasurer.

Each year at Christmas time Miss Weber and Mr. Casaday combine their efforts in order to provide the students of Central with Christmas music and a dramatization of familiar Christmas scenes. Ron Radicki, Michele Pawlowski, Tom Smock (the little boy), Jim Spears and Gary Oesch are all shown in one of the scenes in a portion of the Christmas assembly. They all helped provide us with the "Christmas spirit" before the beginning of our vacation.

"Encore, encore" were the cries heard from the audience during the finale of Mozart's Magic Flute given by the Central High School Glee Club and the Barnstormers on November 22 and 23. The scenery and costumes, designed and made by James Lewis Casaday, director, were colorful and original. Members of the Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Helen Weber, added much zest to this opera.

Glee Club performs for special occasions



The excitement at the home basketball games was always increased by the music of the pep band. They opened the games with our National Anthem and played the school song while the crowd sang joyously to celebrate victories (and loyally to accept losses); but the swingin' sound of "Red River Rock" was the most popular song among the student body at games as well as at the pep assemblies where fans vowed to "win tonight." Pep band members are First Row: Joe Chunn, Mike Wilson, J. B. Christman, Captain Jack Ernsberger, Wendell Harman, and Terry Preston. Second Row: Charles Romine, Ilah Farrington, Jim Sholly, and Jim Ridenour. Third Row: Charles Thomas, Beth Broders, Dave Fitterling, and Dennis Carter. Missing are Keith Merrill, Diane Compton, and Nancy Huff.

From Bach to Bop, Symphony to Swing, Central's

During early fall mornings while most Central students were still getting their "beauty Sleep," band members were found greeting the morning with sleepy eyes and peppy (?) spirits, preparing for their daily march to Leeper Park, led by drum major Jim Sholly. These rehearsals were to prepare for the half-time shows at the home football games. The marching band also appeared at the Riverview Music Festival, the "Lark" parade, and the Memorial Day Parade.

Although the marching band was heard more often by the general public, the concert band, under the "patience" of Director A. J. Singleton, was where members settled down and really became musicians. The past year the band played concerts at other schools, had a joint Winter Concert with the Orchestra, and also gave their Annual "Pops" Concert. Many band students participated in solo and ensemble events, and the concert band competed in the spring band concert.

As drum major, Jim Sholly blows his whistle and gives a signal with his baton, the marching band enters the football field and entertains the crowd with another enjoyable show. Twirlers, (left to right) Jackie Howard, Kathy Ritzler, Captain Sue Burkhalter, Carol Sholly, Bonnie Roberts, and Nancy Huff are often featured during the marching season.

Under the competent direction of Mr. Fisher, the orchestra provides much of our culture at Central. The musicians began the year with one of the most difficult tasks any high school orchestra has attempted—that of presenting an opera. They combined with the Barnstormers and the Glee Club to present Magic Flute, which, after much work in the many rehearsals, was a great success. Soon after, the orchestra gave its annual "Winter Concert," which included classical compositions and show music. Later, in January and February, several members of the orchestra were engaged in preparing for the city, district, and state solo and ensemble contests, in which many of the musicians received first division ratings. After entering a contest the orchestra concluded its musical activities with the "Spring Concert," in which a cello soloist and a flute soloist were featured.

Featuring accomplished musicians is one of the highlights of the orchestra concerts. Janice Nakano, violinist; Cindy Meyers, cellist; and Loren Krienke, flutist were the soloists who appeared at the "Winter Concert" and the "Spring Concert."

GEORGE DAVIDSON AWARDS

Randa Miller — Gary Oesch

HONORABLE MENTION

Scott Martin

Randa and Gary capture coveted George Davidson Award.

Showing their dramatic ability in the Magic Flute were Scott Martin as the comic character, Papageno, Shelly Ackerman portraying the heroine, Pamina, and Leo Ward as Tamina, who saves Pamina from a fate worse than death.

Appearing at the entrance of the ballroom are Lady Mary Carlisle, (Margie Trainor) and Monsieur Beaucaire (Gary Oesch) in this year's Barnstormer show. They portray a very haughty woman and a gentleman with worldly airs.

The opening scene of "Monsieur Beaucaire" has its tense moments as some of the principal characters of the play gamble for high stakes. While gambling they discuss the city of Bath, in England.

Attention is given to "Mr. Bicsit" the town gossip, who is relating tales of our hero, Monsieur Beaucaire. Monsieur Beaucaire is a man of many exploits and daring recklessness.

The dazzling ballroom scene above was heightened by a tremendous undercurrent of drama, set off by the men's anticipation of a duel between Monsieur Beaucaire and Winterset, the scoundrel.

In this scene from the Magic Flute, Scott Martin as Papageno uses his magic bells to put the slaves in a trance, thus making it easier for Pamina and him to escape.

Barnstormers in Monsieur Beaucaire and Magic Flute.

At this year's Christmas assembly, given by the Glee Club and the Barnstormers, these twelve people did their best to "ring" the Christmas spirit into the hearts of the student body.

The Library Club is just one of the service clubs at Central. This year's members are: First Row—J. Stouder, S. Springer, P. Cauffman, S. Stults, treasurer; J. Sherwood, president; M. Yuhasz, vice president; K. Crowe, secretary; M. Mathes, P. Hoffer. Second Row—K. Randall, L. Horvath, M. Hertel, B. Rhodes, M. Fitzgerald, P. Parks, T. Burkowski, J, Moskwinski, A. Barsodi, L. Williams, Miss Janet Anderson, sponsor. Third Row—B. Beck, D. Austin, S. Cates, M. Ball, J. Barcome, R. Hegedus, E. Mendenhall, D. Hagedorn, C. Cauffman, N. Cutler, P. Thielke, L. McKelvey.

Members of student body are debaters and librarians.

"This year has been one to be remembered," says the Central High School Debaters. The Debate Club has during the past year increased its speech activities and has attained a number of high places in such speech events as radio announcing and extemporaneous speeches.

The duties of the Library Club this year have been varied, interesting, and educational. Each member must be willing to examine and frequently review new books received. Among the activities of the Library Club this year were the visiting of the new public library, and the entertaining of children in the orphans home with a Christmas party.

Football Queen's Court reigns over Bear-Eagle rivalry.

An honor? A goal? A thrilling experience. All of these things are the Central Football Queens Court. Needless to say, election to this court is highly competitive. Keeping in mind friendliness, personality and contributions to the school, the student body is asked to nominate four seniors and three juniors to represent Central High as Football court members. Then the student body is again asked to select one girl from the seven nominees as Football queen. These court members are honored in the festivities of the rivalry weekend which is climaxed by one girl's being crowned queen.

Court members have said that their election makes them feel "ten feet tall" or even "a nervous wreck," but all in all this honor is one of the greatest that the student body can give.

"Ladies and gentlemen," proclaimed Jack Ernsberger, Student Council Vice-president, "the 1961 Central Basketball Queen is . . ."

And for one electric moment, every spectator in the capacity audience was silent. Some students exchanged excited glances; others sat dazed with the impressive procession of the court, but for eight girls, the actual members of the court, this was the culmination of three or four years of dreams, the real meaning of their overwhelming surprise upon election, and, finally, the grand finale of nearly a week of frenzied excitement. In that moment, each escort felt the gloved grip on his arm grow perceptibly tighter, and he—yes he too—felt a twinge of excitement at the idea that he might be escorting the queen herself.

. . . Miss Sandie Green." A thunderous burst of applause broke loose. Queen Sandie was crowned. Another cherished memory was tucked away for the eight lucky girls.

A picture of royalty! Al Rapp and Sandie Green beam with delight as Sandie has just learned that she will reign as Central's basketball queen for 1961.

All Hail Queen Sandie and her court.

One of the greatest honors which may be bestowed upon any member of Central High School is to be a member of the Queen's Court. The girls were chosen on the basis of personality, leadership, and their interest in Central High School activities.

The Tri-Hi-Y Club of Central High School is one which displays high goals. This club is dedicated to helping girls of high-school age gain a philosophy which will serve them all their lives. It strives to develop such traits as tolerance and ability to judge wisely. Other purposes are to establish friendly relations with others, to use leisure wisely, and to find a suitable vocation. Because Tri-Hi-Y is a Christian fellowship, membership is open to any girl regardless of race, color, creed, or economic status. Meetings are held once a week at which activities are planned. These include work in education, religion, and worship; service to the community; social functions; and sports activities. Tri-Hi-Y is a branch of the local Y.M.C.A.

The motion picture that breaks the monotony of classwork, the tape for foreign language, the slide projector, the record player bursting forth with voice and song would be difficult, if not impossible, to enjoy without the efforts of Central's Audio-Visual Club. This service club, sponsored by Mr. Marvin, requires its members to be familiar and proficient in the difficult art of operating these various types of sight and sound equipment. The president for the last year has been Jim Kieffer who was assisted by vice president Charles Florence. At the close of the school year the Audio-Visual club held a beach party financed by club dues. A success? Tremendous!

Destined to be Rembrandts, Corats, and Rockwells, there are at Central students who paint, who draw, who mold figures. They are banded together to form an Art Service Club, the purpose of which is to put their artistic talents to use by serving the school. Sponsored by Miss Butcher, the Art Service Club has this year taken a field trip to the Chicago Art Museum. The mobile in the front hall at Christmas, handpainted Christmas cards—these were a few of the successful endeavors of this organization. The group is headed by Sue Komasinski, president; Judy Pugsley, vice-president; Carol Emrick, secretary; Kay Barbour, social chairman; Paul Scheuer, publicity chairman; and Mary Jay Hruska, posters chairman.

Mr. Ferrell's car is the object of the "Aquatic Artwork" of (left to right) Sharon Doetsch, Judy Donnelly, and Myra Ewing. This is a scene taken from the Tri-Hi-Y car wash. The money earned went to the Y.M.C.A. World Service Fund.

Keeping track of the various jobs of the Audio-Visual Club is a very hard job. Just ask Charles Winebrinner, Ronnie Sayers, Jim Kieffer, president, or Benny Bendit to explain their numerous duties.

Diane Handley, Mary Jay Hruska, Posters Chairman, Bob Siefert, and Sue Komasinski, president of the Art Club, are busy fulfilling the purpose of their club, which is to provide our school with art work.

Since our "Space Age" is the topic of so many conversations, it is logical that there are students at Central who are interested in careers in the fields of science and engineering. As other clubs serve the purpose of encouraging and informing students on such careers as nursing and teaching, the Junior Engineering Technical Society is sponsored for Central's budding members of the "scientific world." The names given to their officers are very interesting. Jerry Smith, captain (president); Bob Raymond, first mate (vice-president); Merry Kay Schatzle, communications officer (secretary); and Randy Doi, navigator (treasurer) have been the "top brass" during the past year. JETS sponsor is Mr. Cripe. Central's JETS hold membership in the Junior Academy of Science and in the national JETS organization. Steve Ridgeway, one of their members is president of the JAS. Also, they proudly "possess" the best boy scientist of the year in the state—Rick Ferrell.

Did you ever try to conduct a business meeting in Spanish? Did you ever hear a secretary's minutes in a foreign tongue? No? According to members of the Spanish Club, you're missing something especially interesting and profitable. This group, under the capable sponsorship of Miss Ceyak, has both the opportunity to improve their command of the Spanish language and also to learn the customs and habits of those living in the Spanish-speaking countries. This year the Central Spanish Club is fortunate in having the foreign exchange student from Costa Rica, Blanca Vasquez, as an honorary member. The activities and meetings of this club are coordinated by its other officers, Alice Carrington, president; Nancy Gorsage, secretary-treasurer; and Andrea Paul, program chairman.

The Junior Izaak Walton League each year draws the attention of many students through its many interesting activities. The club is affiliated with the Izaak Walton League of South Bend and shares its purposes, but on a smaller scale. Throughout the year field trips to interesting places in our area and state are taken. All students may attend these. The Junior Waltons strive to interest others in building up and maintaining the beauty of our plant and wild life. Often trips are taken to the Izaak Walton area where trees are planted and duck nests are set. Afterwards, the hard-working conservationists indulge in a picnic by the lake. The Junior Izaak Waltons should be congratulated for this fine work in continuing to serve our community well.

Carol Daren, 1960 President of G.A.A., was toastmistress of the Fourteenth Annual Banquet. At the head table are Mr. Ferrell, Carol, and Miss Mathews.

Fun and successful are just two of the countless words that can be used to describe the many activities that the Girls Athletic Association has done, with Miss Betty Mathews as their club sponsor. The officers are President, Pat Fulnecky; Vice President, Carol Daren; Secretary, Irene Coalman; Treasurer, Karen Critchlow; Intermural Head, Pat Dorsey; Point Recorder, Pat Dunlap; and Publicity, Sharon Morris, Carol Sklodoski, and Barbara Austin. Approximately 35 or 40 girls make up this busy club. Among the activities were a Play Day at Western Michigan, a Christmas Party, and an Initiation Tea.

Added Zip + Extra Zest = The Central Cheerleaders!

If you have never been to a Central High School game or to a pep assembly, you are missing an exhilarating experience. We have the peppiest cheerleaders in the city! They will scream, laugh, cry or get laryngitis to make us back our team, winning or losing.

The varsity cheerleaders are backed up by the "B" team cheerleaders who do their "darndest" to get those in the balcony to yell during assemblies.

These girls sacrifice extra sleep in the morning and arrive at school at 7:15 a.m. to practice in the gym, since each cheer is composed of many complex formations which in order to be synchronized demand many hours of hard work. A vote of thanks for the fine spirit exhibited by our cheerleaders.

"Come on, boys, put her in!" the cheerleaders seem to be saying. Under the direction of captain Janet Nowicki, Merry Kay Schatzle and Natalie Dowdell lead the fans in a few ear-splitting yells.

The paper carriers of Central High School are often seen distributing our Interlude newspapers to home rooms almost every Friday. Seen embarking on their circulating duties from the Interlude office are Sue Graveel, Sue Morrison, Janice Nakano, Janet Nowicki, and Charlotte Howell.

To interest its readers, the Interlude newspaper staff presents in each issue a balanced selection of happenings and interests of school life. Besides being a true reflection of Central, the newspaper fulfills a school objective by emphasizing through its editorials correct social and civic conduct.

Co-operating with the adviser, Miss Marguerite DeGroote, to achieve a high standard of journalism are editor-in-chief Craig Long and page editors Nancy Carr, Anne Lovgren, Janice Nakano, and Harry Lamberson. Writing, editing, and preparing the dummy sheets for the printer are difficult and time consuming tasks. The staff enjoys working in its laboratory, the north Interlude office on third floor.

With the click-clack-clacking of the typewriter, the photographer rushing from place to place, the editor in a frenzy, and the yearbook office in a turmoil, the yearbook staff began another frantic season.

Happiness and disappointment are two words which appropriately describe the feelings of a member of the Central High School yearbook team. This team is a cooperative one. The members must cooperate in order to achieve the desired result—your yearbook.

During the year you at times saw an elated group of students leaving the yearbook office. They were quite joyous because they had just made another deadline. There were times when you noticed a disgusted group of students. They were the victims of a disaster; they had just missed a deadline.

Many members of the yearbook staff have suffered from insomnia and have spent long hours after school in order to become an intricate part of the Central High School Team.

State Champions!! These two familiar words have rung through the halls at Central on many occasions. Several factors have contributed to our success in sports activities. One is the superior quality of our coaching staff. Through this coaching the athletic teams have gained that all important quality which any team needs to be a winner. This quality is teamwork. Another is that our athletes have always had a desire to learn and a strong will to win. Last but very important is the high enthusiasm and support of the student body. With these lasting qualities as a foundation, Central will always be a champion in sports.

Shown here is the 1960 Central Football squad which compiled a 4-4-1 record during the regular season. Next year the Bears will have seven returning varsity lettermen to form a fine nucleus for another potential state championship team. The members are from left to right: First Row—C. Gubi, R. Borders, J. Russell, S. Nice, G. Williams, J. Florkowski, A. Nagy, B. Tiedge, D. Jones, L. Chambliss, A. Grissom. Second Row—G. Miltenberger, S. Wroblewski, R. Seifert, G. Basker, D. Dennis Winters (24), one of Central's classy halfbacks, starts down the sidelines for another score as our Bears put forth the best showing of the year, defeating a powerful Michigan City team 27-0. Dean Howard (with ball), Central's exciting quarterback, is caught in mid-air as he charges for yardage against Michigan City. Jerry Florkowski (64) runs up to help as Mike Floohey (83) throws a rolling block. Central won the game 27-0.

Bob Tiedge, Central's fine reserve quarterback, displays some excellent broken-field running in moving the ball deep into Michigan City territory. Although the Bruins' threat was thwarted this time, the Bears won this hard fought game 27-0.

Bruins start season strong; tie school record of 24 consecutive

The South Bend Central Bears, struggling in the shadow of two State Championship teams, underwent a rebuilding process and had to be content with less this year. The Bears experienced their worst season in three years with a 4-4-1 record; however, we have high expectations for next year's team because we will have seven returning starters and eight other returning lettermen, as compared to the mere handful of veterans who formed the nucleus for the 1960 team.

The Bears opened their season with a 21-6 win over HAMMOND NOLL, to continue their winning streak to 21 consecutive victories. Hammond Noll scored their only touchdown in the first few minutes of play. Thereafter, it was Central's game. Leroy Chambliss was particularly outstanding for his power running which averaged eight yards per carry.

Central turned in what proved to be the most spectacular performance of the year in its 27-0 defeat of the MICHIGAN CITY Red Devils. In the latter part of the second quarter our quarterback, Dean Howard, took charge of the game with three brilliant touchdown passes to Mike Foohey, Dennis Winters, and Gerald Stull. These plays obviously demoralized our visitors as they offered no serious threats in the second half.

Leroy Chambliss and Dean Howard, each scoring two touchdowns, led us to our 23rd victory when we beat RILEY 40-12. An alert Mike Foohey blocked two Riley punts, thereby setting up two of our touchdowns. The longest punt return of the season was performed by George Williams who carried the ball for 81 yards to score. This touchdown can also be accredited to skillful downfield blocking by the Central linemen.

After receiving a pass from quarterback Dean Howard (not visible), Mike Foohey (83), one of Central's "sticky-fingered" ends, shows a determined look as he tries to kick free from the grasp of a Fort Wayne North defender.

Central's mighty Bears' swarm over another Riley halfback. The Bruins ran up a very convincing score against a fired-up Riley eleven 40-12. Bringing down Riley's back are Archie Grissom (73) and Joe Basker (22) with Ron Lizzie (31), Steve Wroblewski (52) and Ron Siefert (7) assisting.

We were behind 7-0 at the end of the first half, but we looked like a different team as we scored three touchdowns and went on to win the ADAMS game 20-7. Archie Grissom, a tackle, had his moment of glory when he recovered a fumble and stepped over the goal line to score. With this 24th consecutive victory we tied the longest winning streak in Central's history, established by Coach Elmer Burnham with his teams of 1930-31-32.

All hopes for establishing an all-time consecutive winning streak were destroyed as our Central team met an aroused and spirited FORT WAYNE squad. Mike Foohey set up our first touchdown when he stole the ball from the hands of a Redskin halfback and ran to the Fort Wayne 20-yard line. Dean Howard scored on the next play to give us a 7-0 lead. In the final period the persistent hard-driving of the Redskins finally paid off with two touchdowns and a tied score of 14-14.

The Bears lost their first game in three years to a "hard-nosed" WASHINGTON eleven who beat us 21-7. In the opinion of many, this was the only game in which Central was outplayed. It was performed before an almost capacity crowd of frantic fans.

The skillful pitching arm of quarterback Dick Witkowski, of MISHAWAKA, and Central's fumbles, led to the second straight defeat for the Bears with the score of 20-6 We established the fatal habit, which marked the remainder of the season, of winning statistically but failing to outscore the opposition.

Again, because of fumbles, we lost the LAPORTE game 14-13. With about four minutes to play in the game, and with the ball on our own 16-yard line, Howard faded back for a pass, was hit by two defensive men, lost the ball, and saw a Laporte Slicer fall on it for the winning touchdown.

The determined ELKHART team met our Central eleven in the final game of the season to defeat us 20-6. A flip pass, which covered 54 yards, from Howard to Stull, set up the Bears' only touchdown in the early moments of the final period.

While time out was called during one of Central's hectic moments head coach Jones gives vital instructions to quarterback Dean Howard as to which one of the Bears' varied offenses to use. Frequently our quarterbacks and Coach Jones have impromptu meetings on the sidelines as they outline game strategy.

Shown here is Coach Lou Newbold's terrific freshman team which compiled an 8-0-1 record during the regular season. Competition is stiff; team finishes with 2-8 record.

The 1960 Central Cross Country team completed the season with a 2-8 record. Although their record was not one of the best, the two milers gained that important product of all athletics, body conditioning. Coach Jepson called it a rebuilding season and looks for an improved and experienced team next season. Left to right are: First Row—Coach Jepson, B. Schermerhorn, B. Harris, G. Walker, L. The 1960-1961 Central Bears finished the season with a 13-11 record against some of the state's toughest teams. This year's team was very strong in talent but weak in experience since we had only two seniors playing. As the season progressed, however, under the guidance of Coach Jim Powers, we gained this needed experience and captured the sectional title. The above picture shows both the varsity and the "B" team, which was directed by Coach Emrick and which wound up the season with a 16-4 record. The players are left to right: First Row—J. McCullum, M. Warren, A. Kristowski, J. Ward, C. Edwards, C. Crittendon, B. Blohm, and G. Grezgoriak. Second Row—W. Hughes, G. Walker, J. Costello, F. Schulz, D. Menyard, D. Allin, E. Samelton, and R. Hill.

Bears face some of the roughest competition in the state;

Danny Allin (43) tries to block the shot of a Fort Wayne Central player. Al Kristowski and Fred Schulz are prepared to fight for the rebound. The Bears played an excellent game against this high-ranked Fort Wayne team, but they lost this effort, 62-60.

"Thata' boy, Call!" shouts Coach Jim Powers as Edwards scores on a driving lay-in. This bucket as the scoreboard shows, brought the Bears within one point of the Riley Wildcats. Soon after, the Bears took command and never released it to win by the score of 67-63.

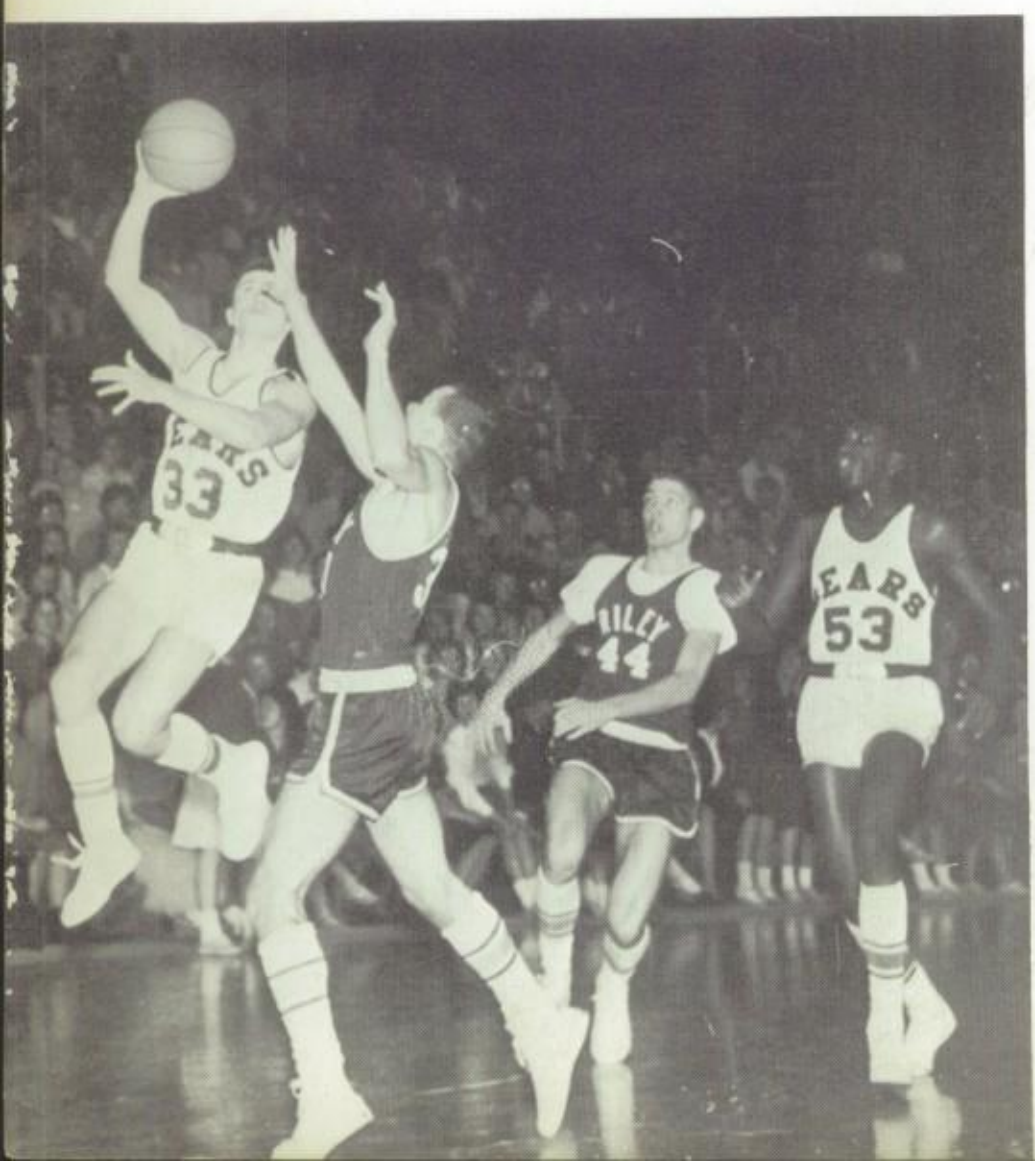
The Bears seem to be winning the "battle of the boards" as Fred Schulz (55), Dan Allin (behind Schulz), and Ed Samelton (53) fight hard for the rebound. A last-quarter surge enabled the Bears to beat a rugged Shelbyville five by a score of 54-50.

Bruins capture fourteenth sectional since 1937; conquer

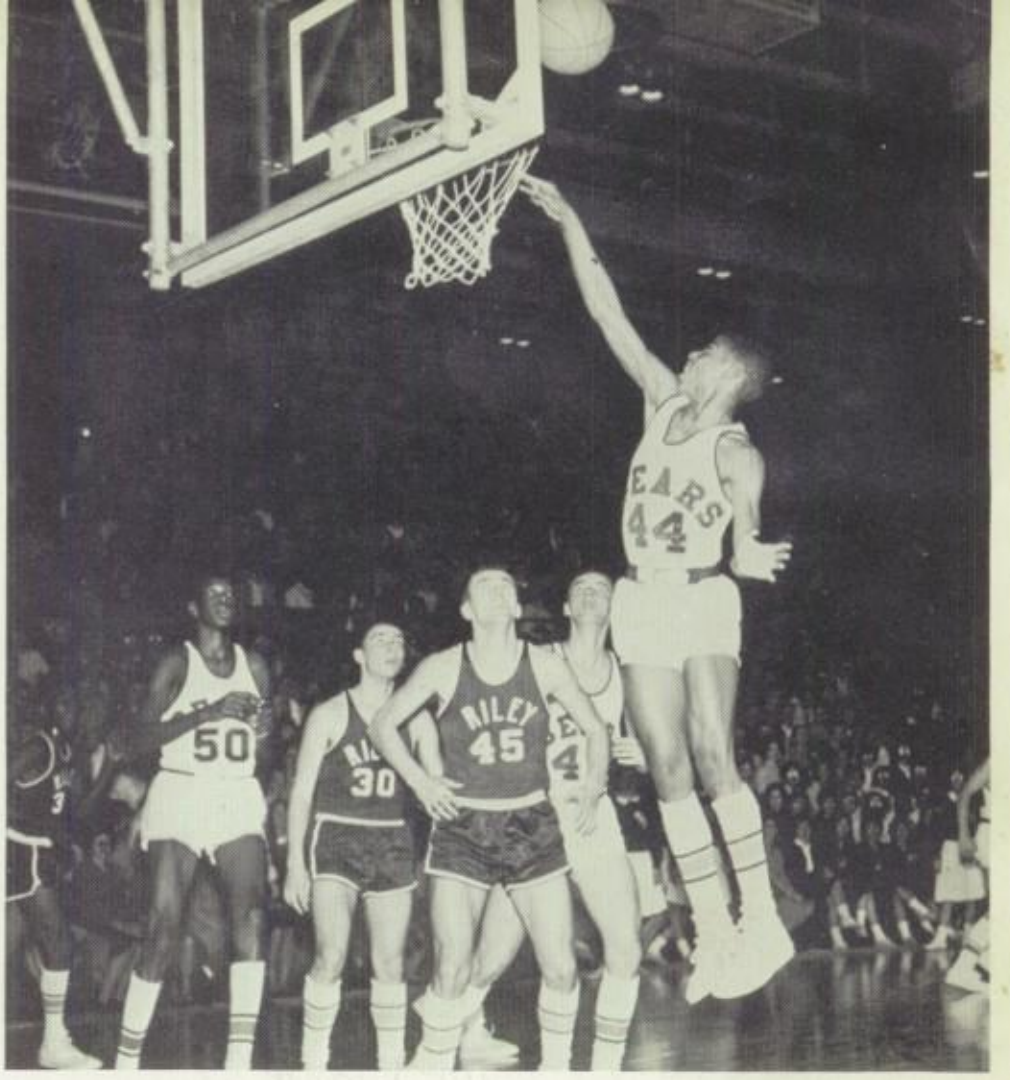
Al Kristowski (33) has just executed a beautiful fake to out-maneuver a defending Wildcat. Here he comes, sailing in to complete a successful two point play which occurred during the last quarter rally against Riley. Samelton (53) is seen rushing forward to pull down the rebound, if necessary.



The 1960-61 Central Varsity Basketball team, one of the youngest in many years, finished the season with a 13-11 record. The Bears began the season by defeating defending sectional champions, Saint Joseph, by a score of 66-59. This avenged the loss handed them by the Indians in the final game of the Sectional last year. The Bruins then suffered five straight losses at the hands of five of the best teams in the state, before defeating a good Goshen team, 67-61. At the mid-season break, Central competed in the Fort Wayne Holiday Tournament. It was on this occasion that the Bears experienced their hardest blow of the season. After losing to Fort Wayne South in the opener 58-53, the Bruins took on Fort Wayne Central Catholic in the consolation game. During a hectic last quarter, star playmaker Bob Blohm suffered a serious knee injury which ended his high school basketball career. The team, despite Blohm's tragedy, went on to win the game 68-64. Without Blohm's leadership the Bears lost to a strong LaPorte team 81-61. Central then was confronted with a "rejelling" process which began by their beating Shelbyville 54-50.

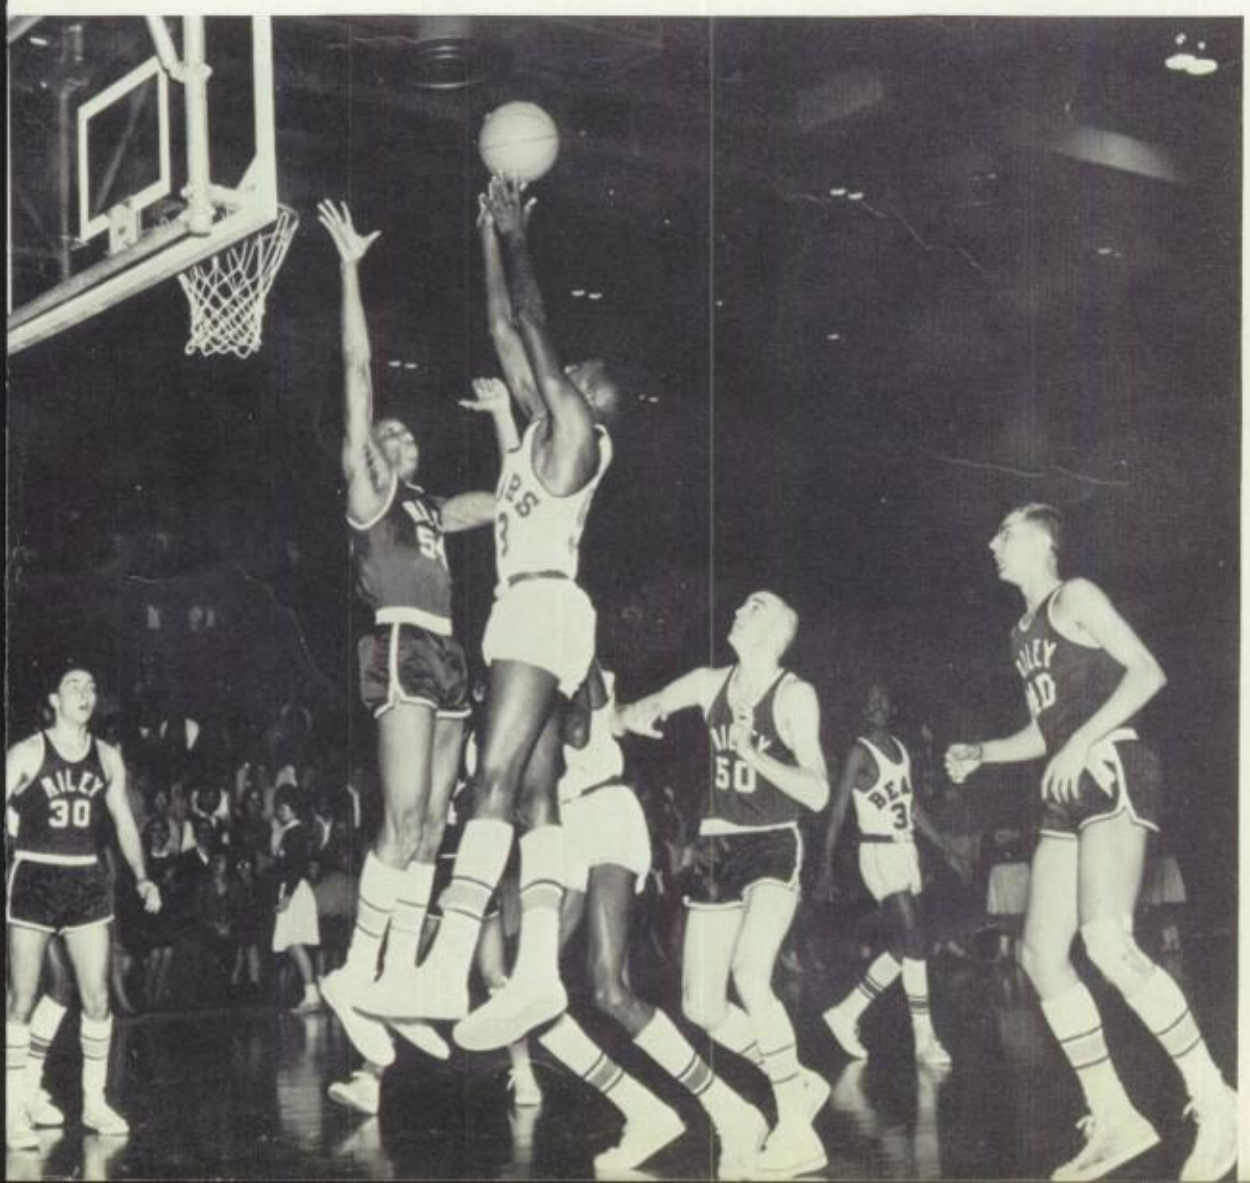
Muncie, top-rated again this year, beat Central, 83-58. After whipping Riley in a "cliff-hanger," 67-63, the Bruins crushed a Marion five, 70-56. Following this victory, Central encountered a "fired-up" Washington opponent and lost their only game to a city foe, 54-51. The next game was the most exciting of the entire season. With Central behind 60-59 in an overtime, sophomore forward Curtis Crittendon tipped in a rebound as the final horn sounded. He was fouled on the play and the Bears won the Anderson game 62-60. Next the Bruins played another exciting game in which they beat a spirited Mishawaka Maroon team, 64-62. Exciting games were becoming a habit as Central came from behind in the final 13 seconds to defeat Fort Wayne North, 70-69. In the final game of the regular season the Bears lost to a highly-rated Elkhart squad, 71-63.

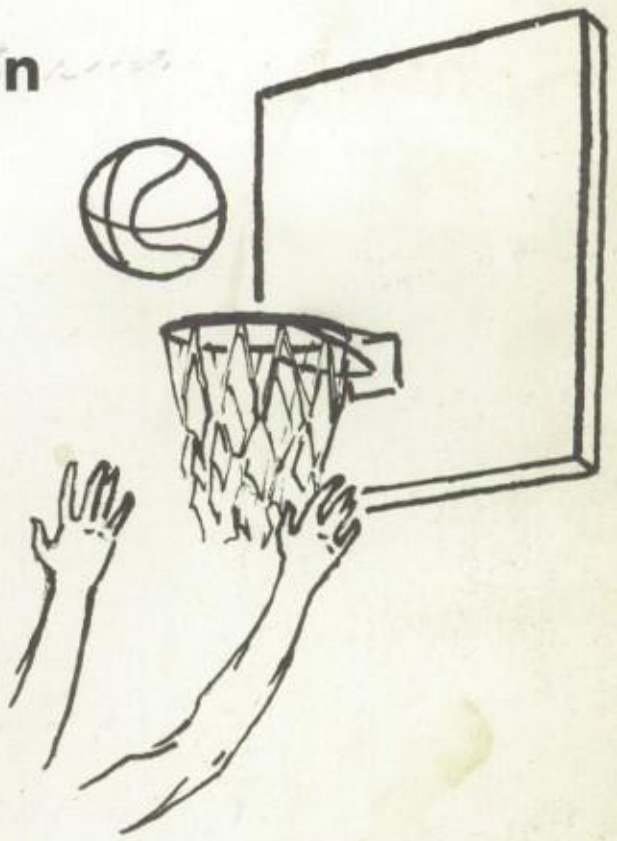
After defeating Lakeville 65-41 in Central's first game of the Sectional, the Bruins avenged their regular season defeat at the hands of Washington by winning an overtime thriller, 68-65. Then they won the Sectional Championship by defeating Mishawaka, 73-56. At the Elkhart Regionals Central was eliminated by Columbia City, 67-65.



Mike Warren (44) displays the skill that enabled him to take over Blohm's position after Bob's injury. Mike, although only a freshman, showed remarkable talent and poise as he met the pressures exerted by some of the state's toughest teams.

all but one city foe during regular season





Samelton lets fly one of his "soft" jump shots as Joe Northern, of Riley strives in vain to stop him. Samelton's shooting seems to worry the three Riley boys, and well it might for he was our leading scorer this year with an average of 18.5 points per game.

A promising Freshman Team tucked away a 14-6 record. The cubs were led to this winning season by Coach Robert Taylor. The Freshmen had an unusual handicap this year because three of their stars were promoted to the Varsity. When this talented team joins with our young Varsity it should be smooth for the Bears and rough going for our future opponents. Pictured in the customary order are: Bottom Row—J. Verhaeghe, C. Longnecker, L. Jennings, R. Seifert, E. Freeman, and J. Humnicky. Top Row—Coach Robert Taylor, W. Webster, J. Key, F. Kruger, L. Rhodes, and Manager C. Witz.

Cub records predict bright basketball future

The Junior High Basketballers, under the excellent leadership of Coach Chuck Welch, have compiled an outstanding record of 55 wins and only 5 losses over a three year period. This year's team had a record of 16 wins and one loss. Included in these wins are two championship titles. The Welchmen were the co-champions of their conference and stormed their local rivals to win the city tournament. The team, from left to right, includes: First Row—S. Vogel, manager, M. Pictured here is the 1960-61 swimming team coached by Mr. Don Jepson. Jepson, Rapp, and Geyer lead tankers to 9-3 season.

Two of the best in this area are shown here. Al Rapp (left) was one of Central's "big guns" as he was undefeated during the regular season and finished second in the state meet. Curtis Ricks (right) was a mainstay during the season, competing in various events and faring well in all of them.

The 1960-61 Central Swimming Team compiled an excellent record of nine wins and three losses. At the beginning of the season Coach Don Jepson set the Bears' goal to be the State Championship. It appeared that the Bruins might be able to accomplish this feat as they went on to defeat their first four opponents, Gary Horace Mann, St. Joseph (Michigan), Riley, and Howe Military respectively. Then the Bears engaged in a crucial meet against a strong Muncie Burris squad. Unfortunately, the tankers finished on the short end of the score 42-53. But the Bears were not to be denied as they recovered to come back and win their next three meets rolling over Washington, Valparaiso, and LaPorte in succession. After suffering two straight defeats, the Jepsonmen rounded out the regular season by beating Penn Township and Loy Norris (Kalamazoo). The stage was set for the big City Meet.

Tom Geyer has for the last four years been one of Central's fastest swimmers, and this year, as the co-captain, he showed his greatest performance. The climax of his senior year was the winning of two gold medals downstate, one in the 50 yard freestyle and one in the 200 yard freestyle relay.

Top ranked swimmers Al Rapp and Tom Geyer, who during the season were undefeated in the 100 yard butterfly and 50 yard freestyle respectively, were ready to go. Central also had a top-flight relay team consisting of Phil Minnes, Tom Geyer, Bob Doseman, and Al Rapp. Coach Jepson relied upon this group to bring to Central a blue ribbon. Rapp, Geyer, and the relay team won their respective events and the rest of the tankers accumulated enough points to capture the City Crown. Next came the conference meet. Rapp and Geyer continued to dominate their events, but the relay team that had been disqualified in the trial heats was unable to participate. This proved to be the reason for their defeat in the conference meet as the Bears finished third. The end of the season was drawing near, with only the state meet remaining. Central sent seven swimmers to this crowning event. The school's hope of the championship lay in our great relay team, in 400 yard freestyle swimmers, Denny Geyer and Tom Veith, and in diver Tom Underly. The Bears finished behind Riley and a powerful Columbus squad which possessed a number of "All-Americans." Geyer and the relay team seized gold medals; and Rapp, beaten for the first time, got a silver medal.

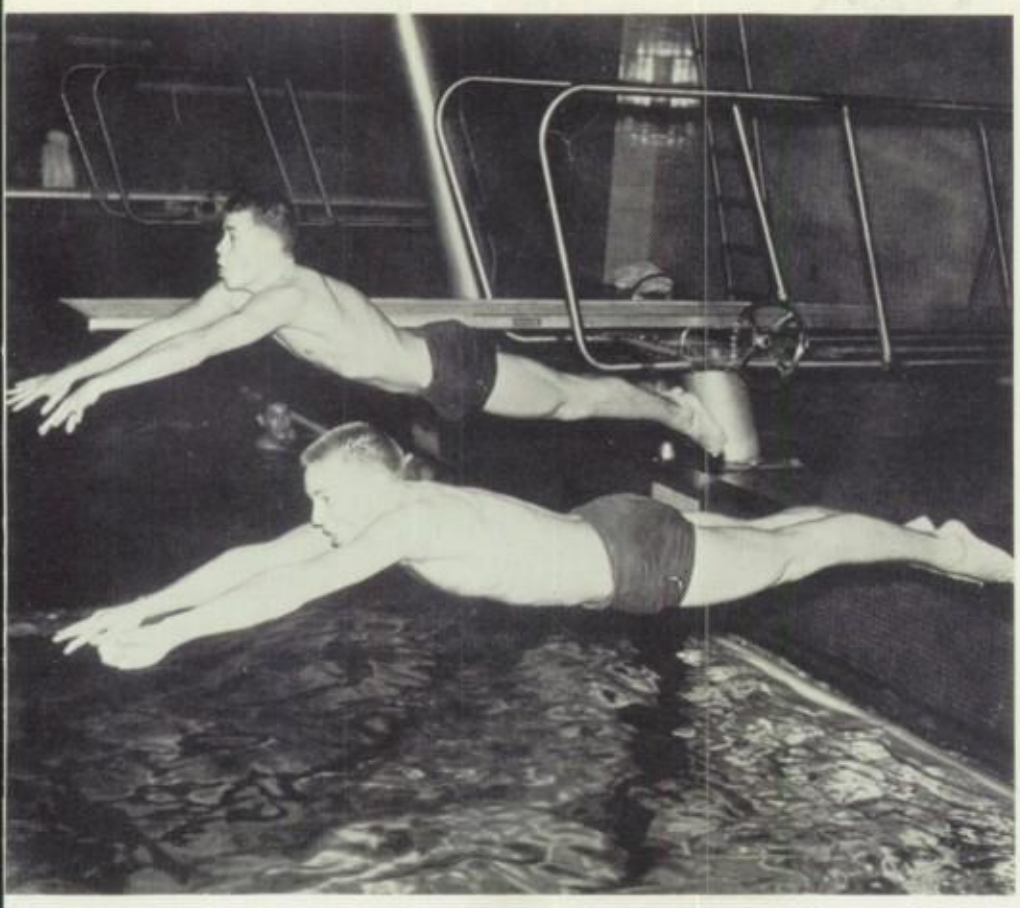
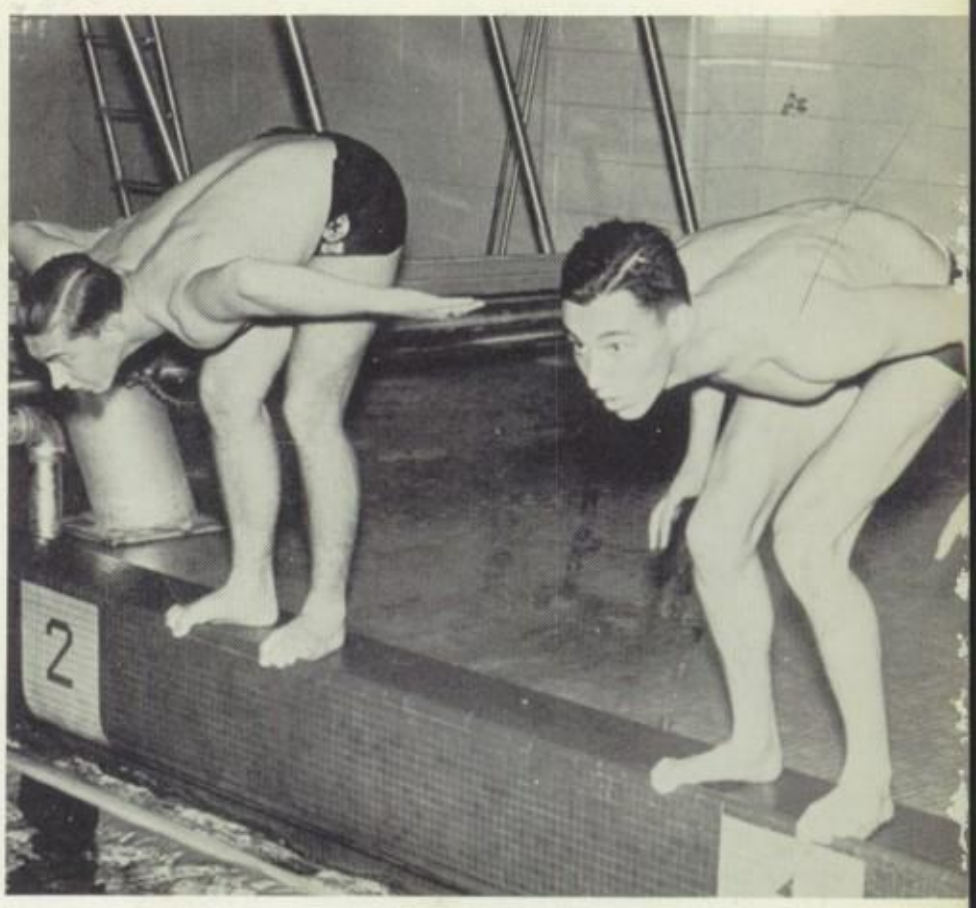
Here are the four fastest men in the state in the 200-yard freestyle relay. Left to right are Phil Minnes, Al Rapp, Bob Dosman, and Tom Geyer. This relay team captured most of the Bruins' 28½ points which was good enough to place third in the state meet.



Tom Geyer and Jack Wolf strive for betterment as they compete in the 50-yard freestyle during a practice session. Such grueling practice as this helped Geyer in his quest for the state championship, and enabled Wolf to make a fine showing during the 1960-61 season.



Poised for the starting gun are two Central swimmers who helped round out a well-balanced varsity event. On the left is Ronald Gorski who competed in the breaststroke event. On the right is Jay Rohr who, along with Gorski, formed a strong 1-2 punch in this event.

Tom Underly works hard on his form during a practice session at the new Washington pool. Practice pays off as Tom shows near-perfect position in completing a difficult 1½ somersault, pike position. Underly, who is only a junior, was the team's number one diver this year with his only handicap being inexperience. Now that the experience has been gained, Underly figures to be among the city's best divers when the 1961-62 season rolls around.

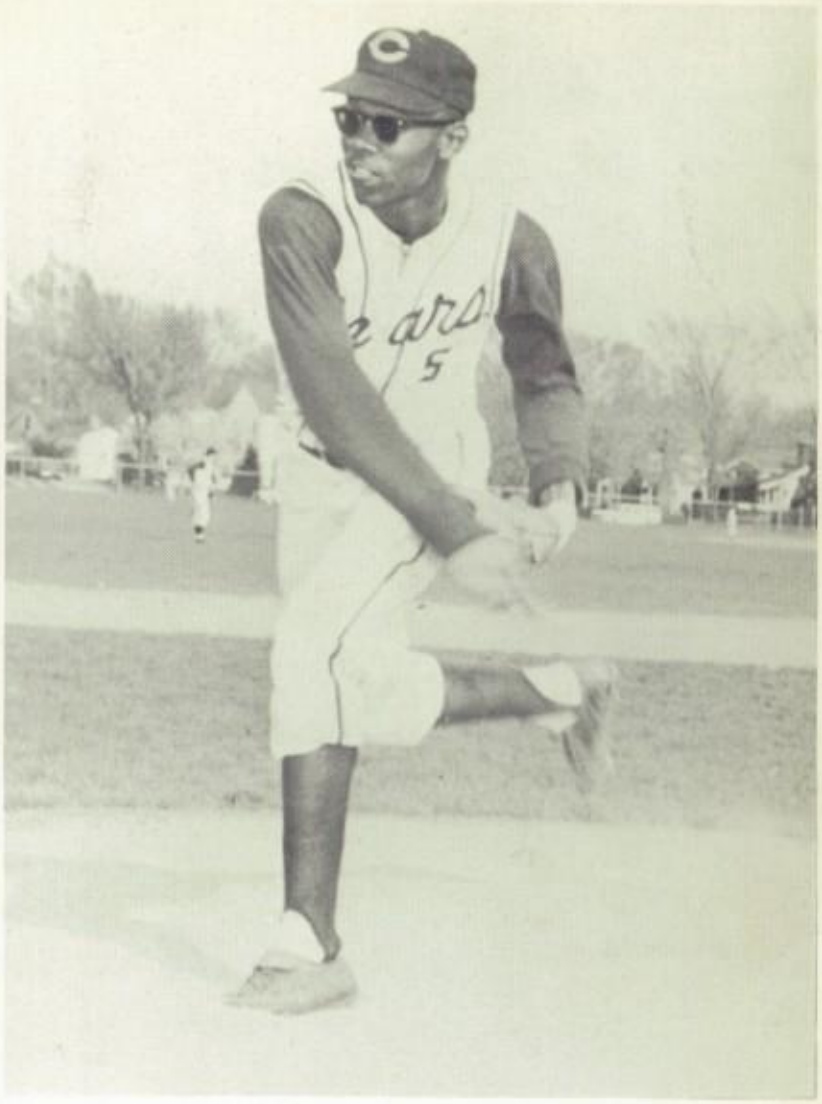
The 1960 Central Baseball Team, under the inspiring leadership of Coach Lou Newbold, won the city championship. The winning of this championship entitled the Bears to receive the Joe Boland award. This is a trophy given to the school which has won the championship three times. Central was the first high school to earn this ecognition.

Jim Snyder was Central's hero in the city tournament. Central qualified for the championship game by defeating Mishawaka, 8-7, in a hard fought battle which lasted for ten innings. In the final game of the tournament the Bears played the Riley Wildcats and Jim scored the winning run. In the bottom of the seventh inning, with Riley ahead 5-4, Jim, with two men out, a man on first base and with two balls and two strikes, hit a home run, clinching the title for Central by a score of 6-5!

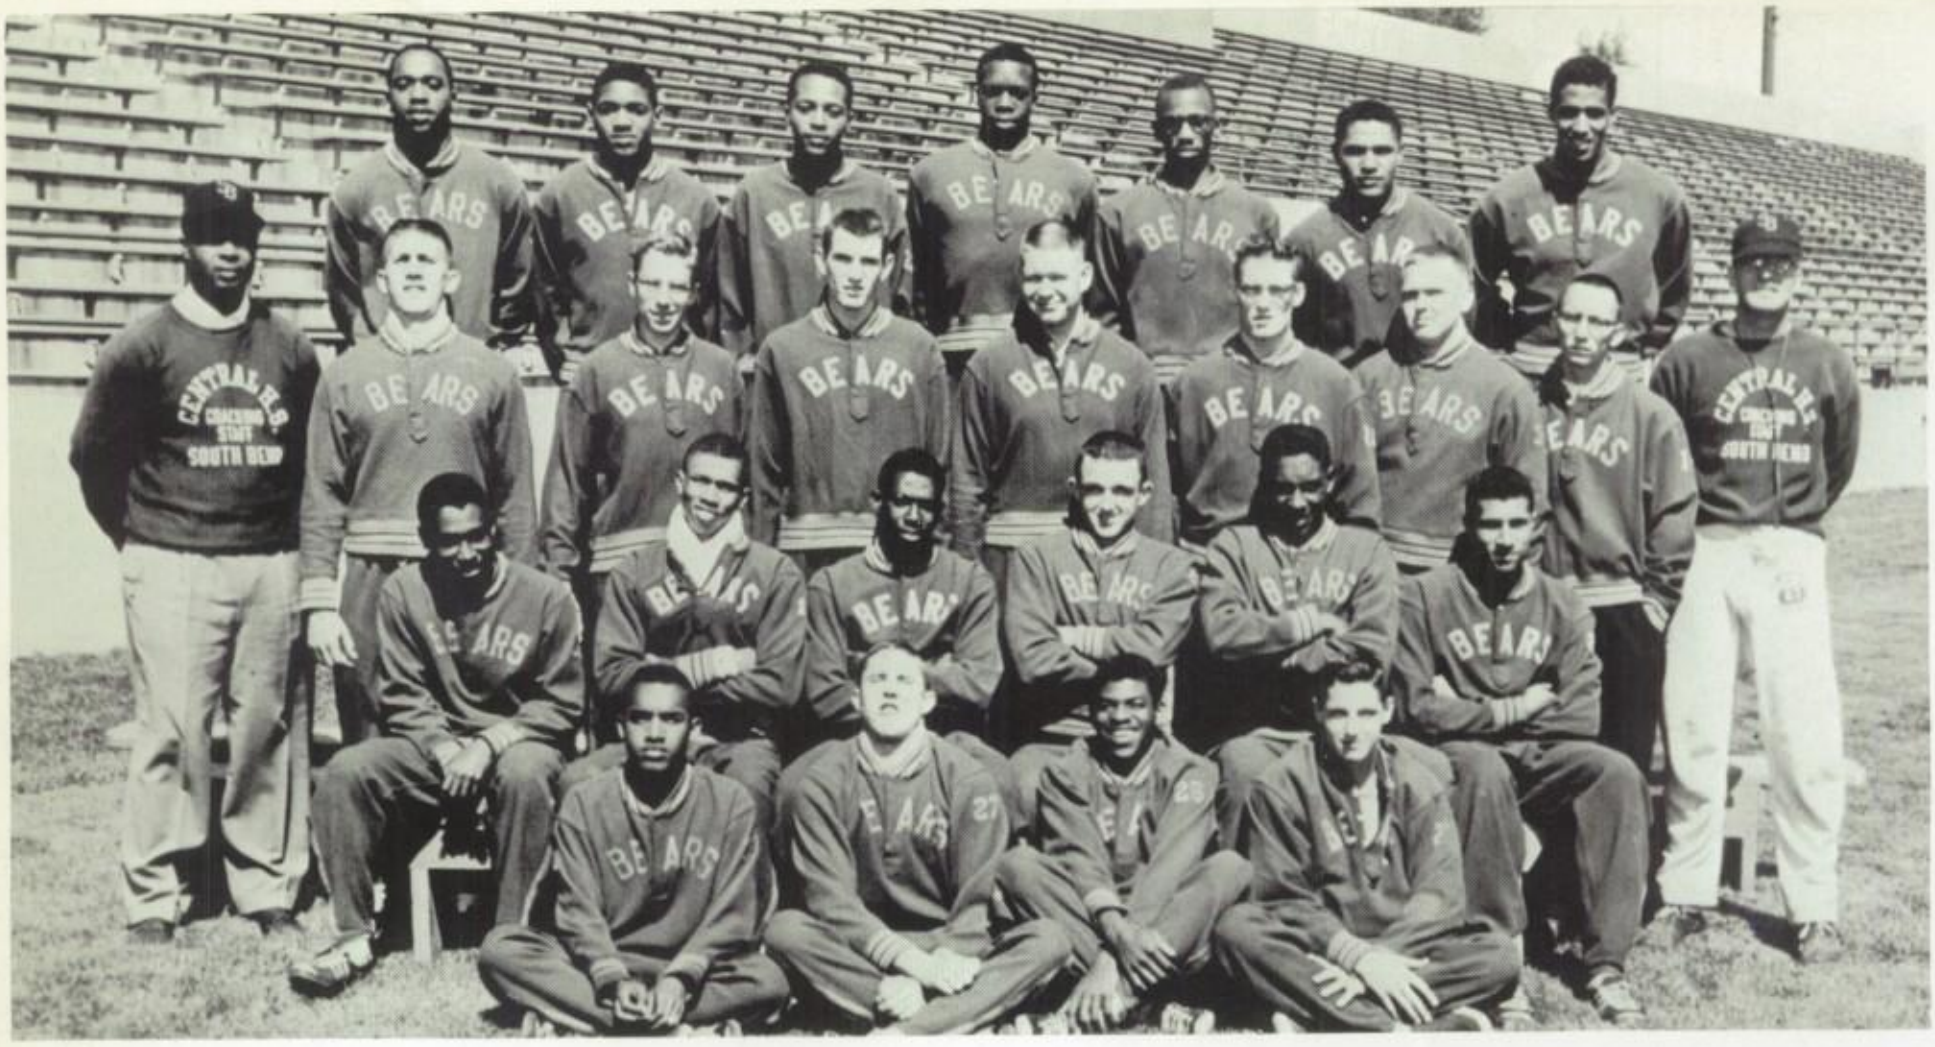
The outlook for the Bears for the next season is very bright, for everyone on the championship team is to return.



"Strike!" Gerald Jones fires the ball across the plate during warm ups before the Adams game. Despite Jones's superb effort Central lost its first meeting with the East Side Rival.

Central becomes first recipient of Boland Award.

"Ball!" shouts the umpire as Sam Dairyko (13) of Adams lets this one go by. Central's Dean Howard, who had a great day in the field, is about to catch the pitch. The game was a pitcher's duel with Central avenging an earlier loss to beat the Eagles 1-0.



The Central High School Track Team, under the excellent guidance of Coach Jim Early, finished the season with a record in dual meets of seven and one, losing only to Elkhart who went on to win the ENIHSC championship. The Bears maintained their proud tradition by following the pattern of the last seven years and once more seized the City Title. Central has never lost a City Title under Coach Early. We placed second in the Sectional Meet, third in the Regional, and fourth in the ENIHSC. In the picture, starting with the First Row, and reading from left to right are: G. Carter, B. Otolski, R. The 1960 Central Bears' Track Team, having a number of highly rated athletes to form its nucleus, began their season in a triangular meet against Logansport and Huntington. The Bruins finished second, but another very successful season was to follow. The Bears bounced back from this defeat to win four consecutive meets over LaPorte, Michigan City, Washington, and Warsaw. Next they suffered their only dual meet loss of the season to Elkhart who had an excellent team and who later went on to win the ENIHSC championship. Central regained its poise and went on to conquer Adams, Riley, and Mishawaka. Having gathered the needed momentum, the Bruins "Broke the backs" of the city rivals and captured the city crown. Coach Early has led Central to this title for seven consecutive years, every year since he became head track coach. Along with this feat is the fact that no Early-coached team has ever been beaten by a city opponent, an extremely impressive record for any man. The Bears rounded out their season by placing second in the Sectional, third in the Regional, and fourth in the ENIHSC meet.

"I'm almost there!" pants Sam Martin as he is about to break the tape and win the 440 yard run. It was a close meet with Washington until Central "chewed up" the cinders in the two relay events and won by the score of 61-48.

Bruins win City Title for seventh consecutive year.

Mose Williams seems to be calm and cool as he breaks the tape and wins the 880 yard run. George Blount vainly strains to get a second against the Washington runner.

No! This is not the first man in space but Bob Borders out-jumping Riley to win this particular event. Central won the meet with a score of 73-36.

This is the Central 1960-61 Varsity wrestling team. The team, under the guiding hand of Coach Ed Szucs, compiled a respectable 10-2 record, including the Eastern Division Conference Championship, and the Sectional Championship. The Bears also conquered all city foes except Riley. Left to right are: First Row—Associate Manager Jim Ackert, C. Wolf, T. Behling, M. Ponder, G. King, C. Smith, L. The 1960-61 Central wrestling team began the season in an unusual way, by losing to Logansport. This was an unhappy beginning for the excellent season which followed. The Bears avenged this loss by winning the next four matches over Adams, East Chicago Washington, South Bend Washington, and Hammond Tech respectively before finishing second in the Holiday Tournament to a strong Riley Team. After crushing Mishawaka 48-8, they suffered their second defeat at the hands of Riley. Then the Bruins went on to beat LaPorte, Lafayette Jefferson, Elkhart, and East Chicago Roosevelt in succession. Next the Bears showed their power by capturing the Eastern Division Conference Crown. They concluded the season by beating Niles, finishing third in the conference, first in the sectional, third in the regional, and tying for fifteenth in the state. Gene King, whose individual record was 26-2, and Charles Bush, who won twenty and lost four during the season, were Central's representatives in the state matches. Both finished third. Larry Allsop, whose season individual record was 17-6, was voted most valuable wrestler.

"This is the end," says Mike Hall as the buzzer sounds finishing the match in which Mike decisioned Tom Hages of Lafayette Jefferson 3-1. The win was one of eight which Mike accumulated during the season while wrestling in the 165 lb. wt. class. The Bears won, defeating a rough Lafayette Jefferson team 30-14.

consecutive Eastern Conference Championship.

The hopes of the future varsity wrestling years look bright for Coach Ed Szucs as the "B" Wrestling Team compiled a very impressive record of nine wins and one tie under the leadership of Coach McNarney. The Cubs had four wrestlers who were unbeaten. They were Mike Ponder—112 lbs., Charles Martin —154 lbs., Ollie Bradford—103 lbs., and Jim Martin—138 lbs., Steve Nice—145 lbs. was only beaten once. Shown here going from left to right are: Front Row—B. Our Bruins for the 1960 season underwent a rebuilding process since we had lost three seniors from our 1959 varsity. Relying heavily on three underclassmen, the tennis men compiled a three win-five loss record. Our first foe was Goshen; this meet was close and undecided down to the last matches, but we lost these and thereby lost 3-2. John Higgins was our only victor in our game against Riley as we lost 4-1. Our tennis men blanked Mishawaka by winning all five matches. We also won against LaPorte, but Elkhart duplicated our defeat against Mishawaka and blanked us 5-0. We came back to win over Ft. Wayne North Side, but were defeated in our last two games which were played against Michigan City and Adams. Coach Jim Powers has expressed confidence in our chance for a strong team next year since this year's experience has given our team the necessary poise of a winner.

We caught Eugene Klaffke in one of the practice sessions at Leeper Park working on his serve. Klaffke, along with Baillie Dunlap and Charley Truett, will form a strong nucleus for Powers' netmen next year since John Higgins and Harry Lamberson are the only graduating seniors.

Stan Gebo shows perfect form as he blasts out of a sand trap during a golf match at Erskine Park, the Bears' home course. It was because of this excellent form that Gebo's teammates chose him captain for the 1961 season. Stan will have the task of improving on last years 7-7-1 mark.

The 1961 Central High School golfers under the guidance of Coach Emrick ended the season with a 7 won, 7 lost record. They started the season with a win over Elkhart, but were then beaten by LaPorte. They bounced back by winning their next three matches against Michigan City, Mishawaka, and Riley respectively. The golfers then tied Adams 7½-7½ in a match that turned out to be one of the closest and best played of the year. LaPorte came to Erskine Park once more and defeated our Bruins. Then the Elkhart golfers avenged their earlier loss by winning 9½-5½. We again beat Michigan City but were beaten by Mishawaka, Riley, and Adams. We finished the season by winning one of the last matches, defeating Dyer but losing to Elkhart and Riley. Our hopes for next season will be in the hands of Jeff Tremper and Stanley Gebo since four of our top six golfers will graduate.

FACULTY

Through the years many things change at Central. But one stable factor is the high quality teaching staff. We are here to learn, and learn we must by the "sweat of our brow", but our teachers lighten the task by using their past experiences to help each individual student.

We have within these walls teachers gathered from every corner of the country with wide and varied backgrounds. They impart to us the knowledge of science, mathematics, history, the arts, languages and other vital subjects; but no matter what course they teach, the goal of each one is to contribute to the making of a cultured well-adjusted citizen.

And so it is with great pleasure and the highest esteem that we present Central High School's 1961 teaching staff.

The success of a team often depends on the competence of its captain. It is no wonder, then, that under such guidance as Mr. Ferrell's, both the academic and the extra-curricular programs prosper at Central. At school he is a living example of his own slogan, "Unselfish giving of individual energies is the key to optimum teamwork." At home his well earned free time is consumed by his hobby, refinishing antique furniture. In the evening he may be seen viewing one of the many sports contests he enjoys each season. Then, too, one of the many people who are enticed to the golf course by a beautiful spring day might easily be our own Mr. Rupert T. Ferrell.

Administrators navigate Central's ship of state.

The job of assisting the school principal has fallen into the capable hands of Mr. Richard. Many of the duties of the principal overflow into his office and Mr. Richard handles them with assurance gained through years of experience. Some of his responsibilities include unexcused absences and pupil and teacher personnel. Although he is extremely busy, Mr. Richard takes personal interest in Central by striving to know socially as many students as possible.

Under the guidance of its capable principal, Mr. Barnbrook, the junior high runs smoothly as the youngsters are prepared for their approaching high school careers. He counsels the students and has conferences with parents concerning their children.

Mr. Barnbrook takes a lively interest in the students and strives to make the junior high years enjoyable ones for all of them.

With his able assistance, the Central High School Junior High runs on an even keel.

As head counselor at Central, Mr. Harter has been the guiding influence for graduating students for many years. Students come to him for counseling about choice of jobs and choice of careers.

He helps students choose colleges which will be suitable for their capabilities, and he also helps them with applications for scholarships.

Mr. Harter runs the counseling department with an able, experienced hand and keeps it in smooth working condition for the service of the students.

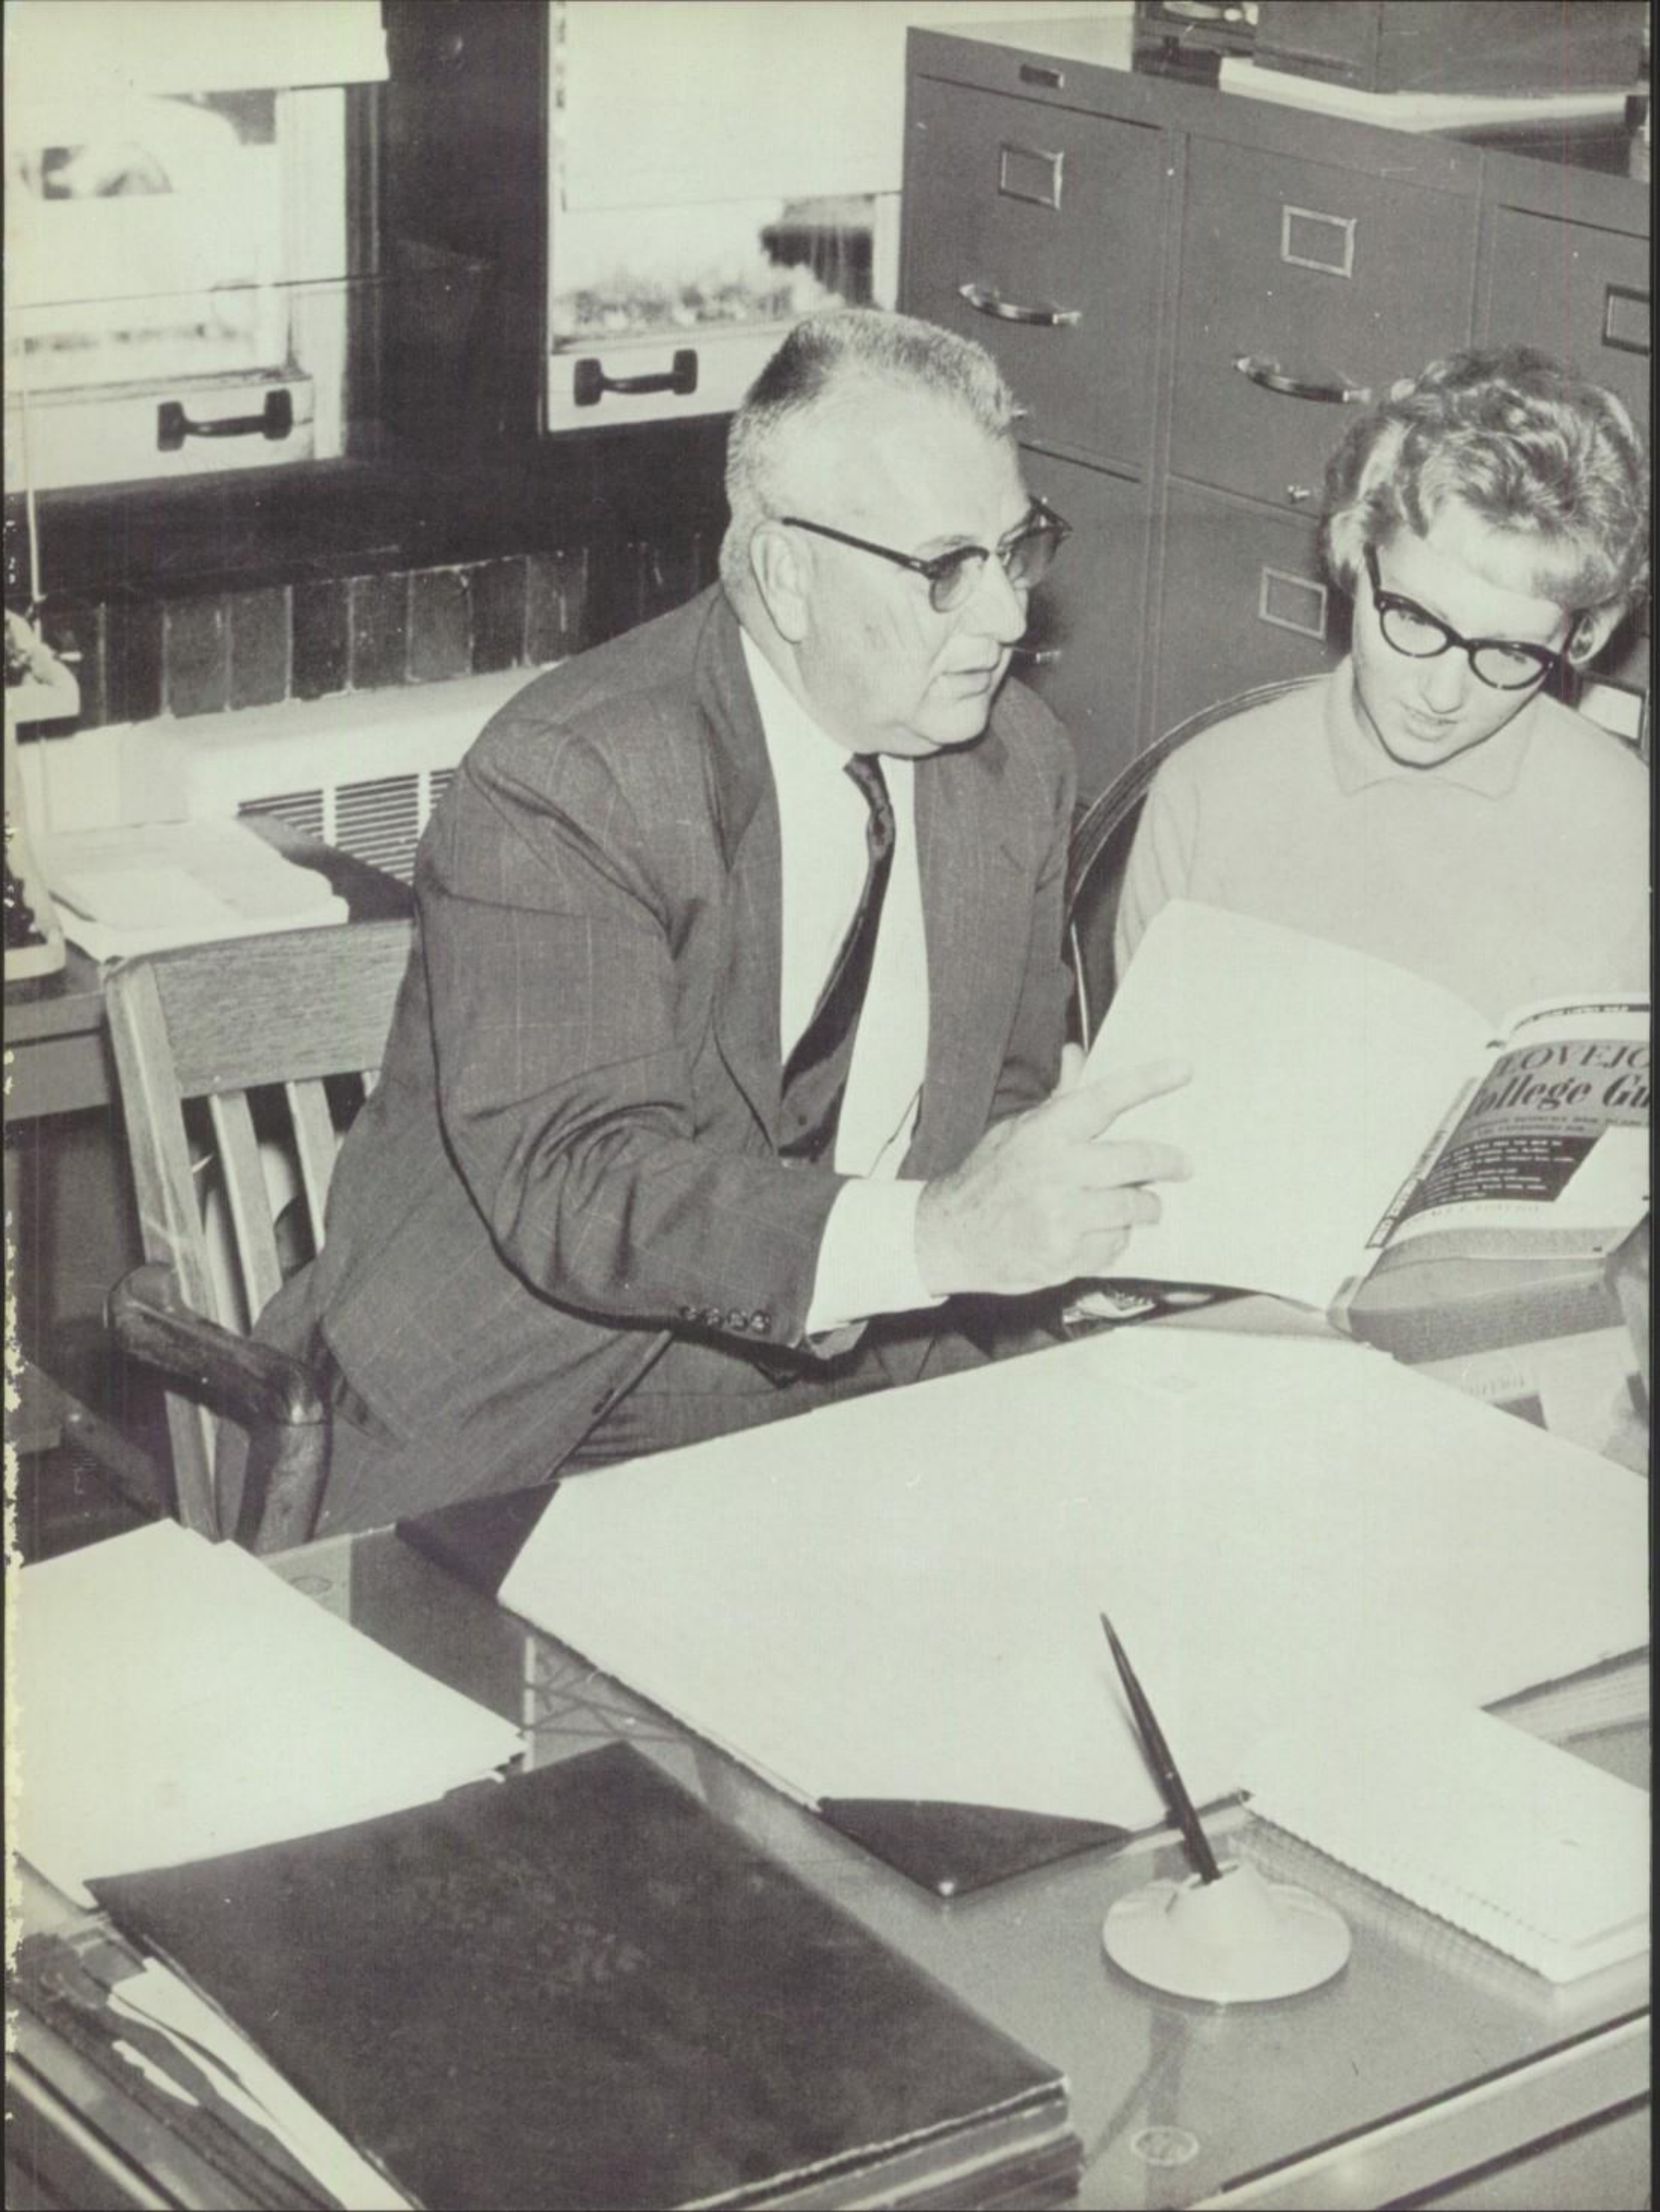
Mr. Mackowiak, Mrs. Butcher, and Miss Hatt (left to right) hungry after their morning full of "adventures" have just squeezed their way into the line of "starved" students. Each of the teachers is wishing that today will be the day his favorite dish is served. Mrs. Butcher is sniffing for the aroma of roast beef. Dreams of fresh pineapple are floating through Miss Hatt's mind. (Is she back in Hawaii perhaps?) Lastly, Mr. Mackowiak's taste buds are longing for the flavor of buttery red lobsters. Mrs. Kodba and her staff of ten skillful cooks feed some 1200 hungry mouths per day. The average amount spent for these lunches is between 40¢ and 50¢. The cafeteria's biggest "feast" of the year is the annual turkey dinner at Thanksgiving.



SENIORS

"Which college shall I attend? How well did I do on my scholarship tests? For what type of job am I best suited?" These and many other questions have been asked during the course of the semester by you.

As seniors you have reached a milestone. You have completed the required amount of study.

As seniors you also face a tinge of sorrow in knowing that you will never again see many of those with whom you have attended school. Each of you will be taking separate paths and reaching for separate goals.

You, as seniors, are now ready to go out into the world as adults.

One of the responsibilities we must take after receiving "the keys to the car" is to keep it in driving condition.
They were the leaders of the 1961 graduating class of Central High School. As seniors, they may aptly be called the "steering wheel," for they guided us toward an exciting last year at Central.

Eddie Sears presented an inspiring evening of entertainment at his "20th Century Jazz Concert." The selections played at the concert were mainly Eddie's own arrangements and, indeed, highlighted the program. The entire program was light and informal with Eddie playing host, master of ceremonies, and artist. His work and achievements have proved to be successful, and we think he is certain to attain the name of a jazz great.

National Honor Society inducts 10% of senior class.

Membership in the National Honor Society is granted only to good students; the good students are the ones who not only work hard, but also maintain self-discipline. Shown are the new inductees and their "proud" parents being feted by the old members at a morning tea. To many pupils, congratulations to those wearing "the mark of distinction" will suffice. To these students, their pins are reminders that scholarship is a worthy goal.

R is for the royalty, their king and queen who reigned
O is for the omens, which made their night divine
M is for the music, which made their prom "so fine."

The day I've been waiting for all my life! This seems to express the joy and sorrow felt by these forthcoming graduates of Central High. Joy because they are looking toward the future with eager anticipation; for some, college; for others, work. Sorrow because they know they are leaving behind their most profitable experience. Shown from left to right are Larry Elliot, Betsy Mead, Judy Keresztury, and Robert DuComb admiring one another's attire.

According to Roger Peters and Craig Long this is the proper method of making a basket. This proved to be the highlight of the Central-Adams pep assembly this year. Roger was the renowned coach Warren Oceanberg who provided the students with laughter galore. Craig Long portrayed "big" Jim Wilson, an area sportscaster.

Parents, sisters, brothers, grandparents, aunts, and uncles are all watching as members of their families are passing through another portal of life—high school graduation.

What course will these students pursue? This is a question that wanders through many a mind during the graduation ceremony.

During the month of June this scene will be taking place in all areas of the country as students venture forth to new and varied experiences.

UNDERCLASS

"Smile . . . No, I don't like that pose so well" . . . Thus, one of the underclass activities comes into focus. You, as underclassmen, look forward with eager expectations to the opportunity of posing for underclass pictures.

As underclassmen you aspire to achieve many goals. A few of these goals are membership in the National Honor Society, the ordering of your class rings, voting for class officers, and preparing for college; thus designating the teamwork which has become so important in the development of a better Central High School.

As you leaf through the pages of your yearbook, remember those who have helped to make this a well-organized team.

As juniors we ride to school in comfort and serenity. Of course, our parents still act as chauffeurs, but this mode of transportation certainly outranks either taking the bus or the ignoble act of "hoofing it." Our spokesmen for the glories of the improved transportation and various other matters of importance such as our Junior Prom or class rings are Mike Hall, president; Doug Ogden, vice-president; Carolyn Sacchini, secretary; and Sharlene Hoke, treasurer.

As juniors we finally go to all pep assemblies; occasionally

We study American history, struggle with chemistry.

The concession stands at the football stadium are a welcome refuge for hungry, thirsty football enthusiasts. Here people find a welcome place where renewed energy can be purchased in the forms of candy apples, pop corn, and pop. Such pep producers provide that extra stimulation needed for an exciting second half. Here we find Tom Bilinski, Carolyn Sacchini, Sharon Segrist, Mike Love, and Rosemary Ieraci purchasing pep.

Madelon Rauch, Woodrow McDonald, and John Douglas are some of the people seen in Elbel's after a long day of hard work at school. Looking at records takes one's mind off the triangles previously proven congruent in his geometry class or the presidents he encountered in his history assignment. Maybe John Douglas will buy that record to listen to while he's doing some of that homework he's carrying.

sell tickets, then suddenly, it's here—our Junior Prom.

Wet books, crushed papers, and drippy boots are all part of the conglomeration found in our lockers during the winter months. Here we find Nancy Fredrick and Shelly Ackerman sorting the wet books that will be taken home for homework and putting on boots, scarves and coats for their walk home.

As sophomores we ride to school. Whether or not this is an improvement over walking still remains a matter for conjecture. We enjoy bus travel and its dubious comfort, being wedged into an inconceivably small amount of space at an hour when we are scarcely fit for polite conversation, much less for contact with massed humanity. Four faces in this mob, however, still manage a smile and "good morning" — these are Central's sophomore class officers, Larry Remble, president; Sherry Walsh, vice-president; Carolyn Papay, secretary; and Marge Badowski, treasurer.

Who called us wise fools? 'Must have been a frosh!'

Fifteen minutes to eight and all is well. The long trek of the freshman class officers, Fred Krueger, president; Ellen Shimer, vice-president; Kathy Krueger, secretary; and Phil Levy treasurer, is at an end as the school doors, symbolizing warmth and freedom from rubber boots, loom clear on the horizon. On our morning hikes, however, we find constant opportunity for conversation and for meeting of other hikers—fellow members of the freshman tribe and those more primitive but hardy upper classmen.

We try for varsity, dream of becoming a cheerleader.

With exception to the academic portion of school life, we become acquainted with one another throughout the year at social functions. One of the activities sponsored by the freshman class is the freshman dance held in the girls' gym. With the assistance of the pep band, freshman class members were initiated into the Central High School team. We certainly hope that interest has been stirred in Central's activities.

Leading the junior High Booster Club as officers this year are Nancy Boocher, president; Larry Edler, vice-president; Jean Walker, secretary; David Muldron, treasurer; and Mr. Woolridge, their sponsor. The junior high Booster Club held an award assembly for the football team. They also sold Booster Club ID cards and held a toy fund campaign. The winner of this campaign received a trophy. Hats off to the booster club for a job well done.

Junior High organizes and plans Council activities.

A Christmas assembly, a lost and found where students may receive their books and pay a small fee in return, and dances all are activities of this year's junior high Student Council. The officers are (left to right) Diane Johnson, treasurer; Lynn Kirkwood, secretary; Judy Smith, president; and Dennis Powell, vice-president. These students all have learned the responsibilities of student government. Upon graduating to high school, they will all be able to become responsible senior high citizens.

- Edward -

Avery sweet young man that has a sweet personality that will go a long long way in life.
I'd really would of been nice if we could we attempted. If we've made the shit interested in Bryan when we were you need some nice spring lady and go all the even making a nice sweet faith.
Remember me and hear in mind a true friend to find but when you find one grind & true like old for the new. Please excuse this writing but, that won't be the most important way ever
I can help you in any way don't is hard don't forsake allthe I cannot doing in life. If ever I hesitate to call me.

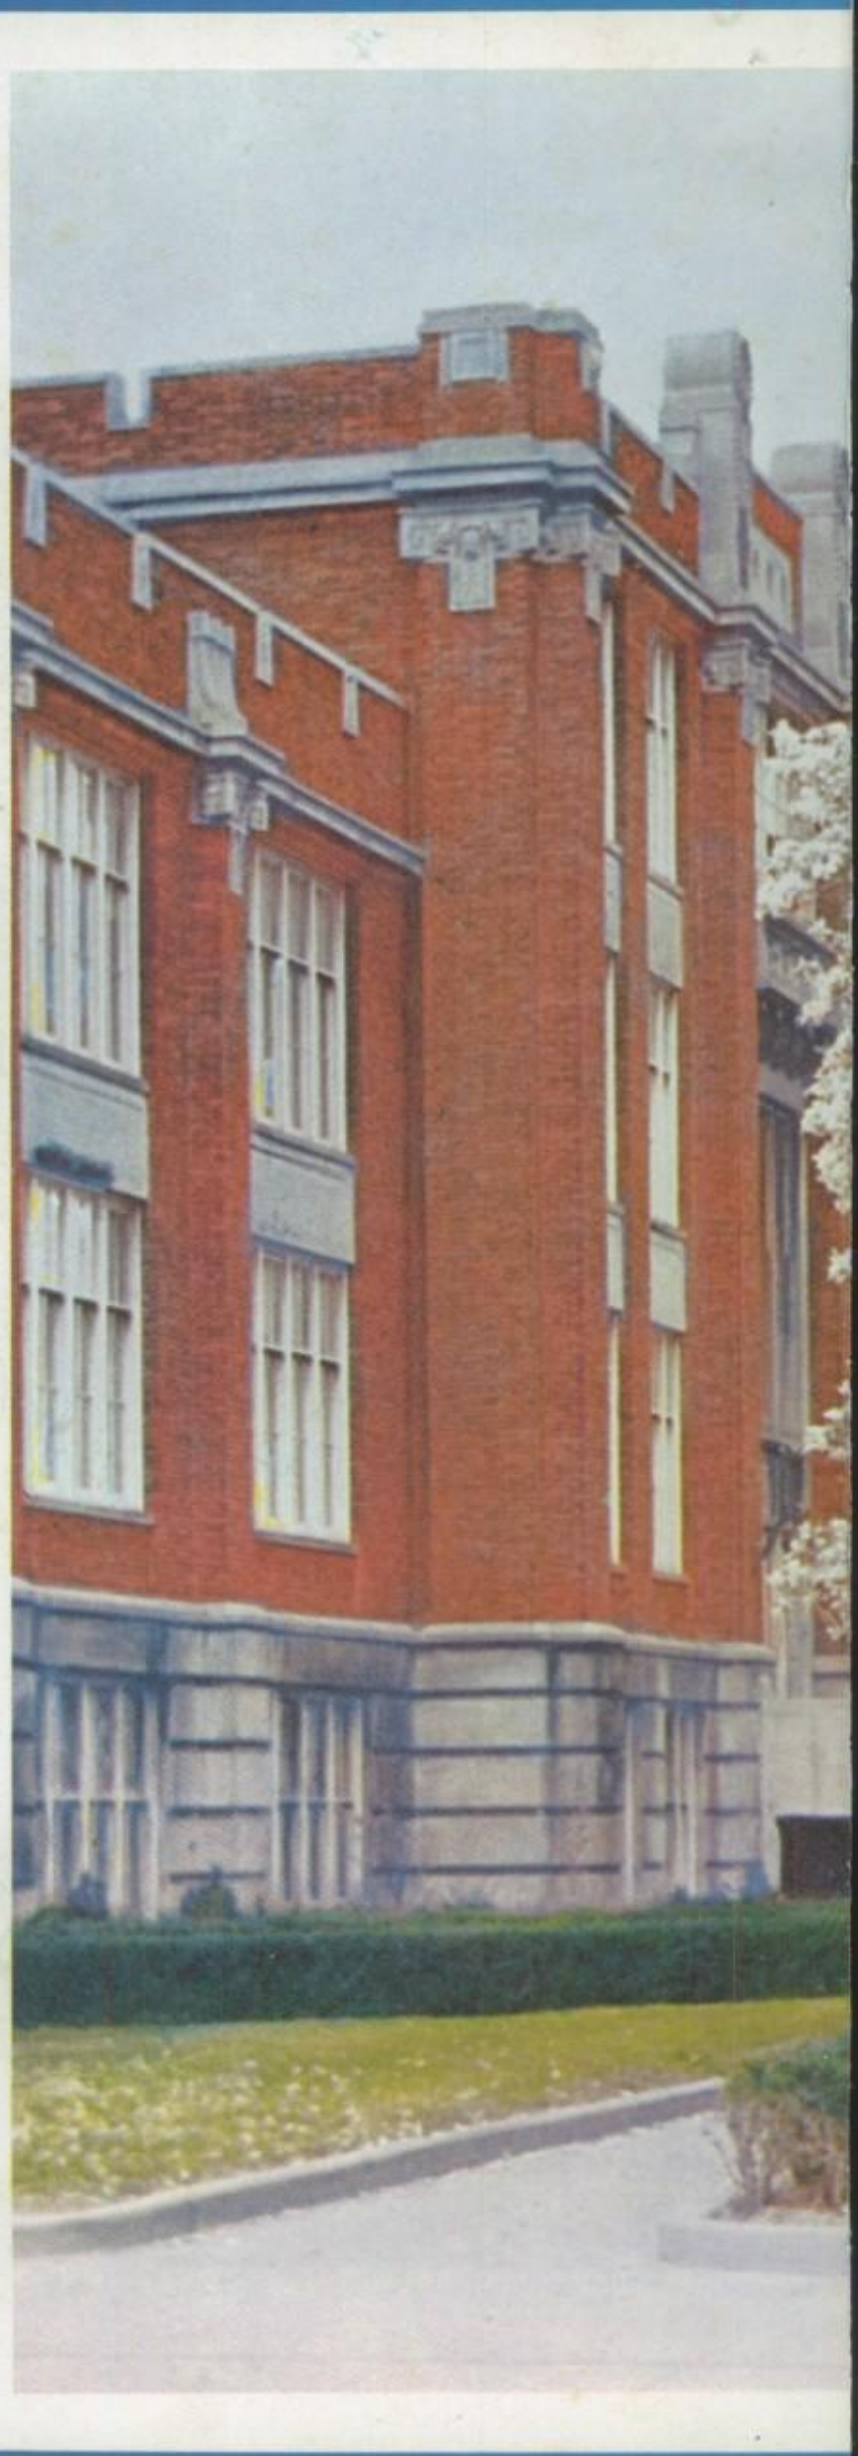
Always Sharon
Love ya
'59



Ed
To a real great basketball player.
Everyone will be expecting more of the same next year.
I hope you are successful in all that you do.
